them an ultra-feminine English royalty look.

- A challis skirt can be teamed with paisley or plaid blouses for a folkloric look.

- Boots that are low-heeled, short and tall on the leg in soft leather can do wonders for last year's pant outfits. As long as the pant legs are not narrow and have soft pleated fronts the boots will fit right in.

- Leg coverings will be in expensive ways to add a new dimension to yourself. In earth tones with textures and designs they're to be worn with pants and dresses.

- Costume jewelry in chunky, chunky styles and materials ranging from gold plating to wooden to bronze. Bangle bracelets and long dangling earrings can spruce up anyone's wardrobe.

Daring and delightful. These corduroy banded bottom pant with elastic waistband teamed with a Berber tweed shaker knit sweater is a great combination to wear to the show, to dinner or to run around town. The gold flame-stitched pant boot and the accents of glints of gold, including the colossal gold bag, top off the outfit. From Winkelman's
