COUPON EXCHANGE meets from 9 a.m. to noon Tuesday in Farmington Hills Community Library on 12 Mile Road with Lola Anchor.

All meetings of the club are open to persons interested in exchanging food coupons and refund forms. Inquiries will be taken by calling Ms. Anchor at 474-7018.

FARMINGTON MUSICALS opens its 1981-82 season with its annual membership tea and a program called "Meet Franz Schubert" at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday in Farmington Hills Community Library on 12 Mile Road.

The event is open. The purpose of the club is to develop the musical talent of its members and stimulate musical interests.

There is no charge for guests.

Fully costumed as Schubert, Roger Jamison furnishes the afternoon program relating some of the humorous and poignant experiences that molded the Austrian composer's life.

Jamison is a multi-talented performer who combines his singing, playing and dramatic abilities in the one-man show to achieve his Schubert characterization.

Critics have compared Jamison's one-man musical event to Henry Fonda's recreation of Clarence Darrow and Hal Holbrook's recreation of Mark Twain in their one-man shows.

Jamison, in frock coat, curly wig and spectacles, has been enthusiastically received at Meadow Brook and Cranbrook music festivals where he has been booked for several return engagements.

ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE AND RELATED DISORDERS ASSOCIATION, (ADRDA), Michigan chapter, begins a support group for the family and friends of those suffering from any senile dementia at 8 p.m. Sept. 10 in Farmington Hills Christian Center, 23233 Drake Road.

The gathering will be known as ADRDA Farmington Hills Support Group.

Alzheimer's and other related diseases are characterized by loss of memory, disorientation and diminishing intellectual capabilities. They are irreversible and there is no known cause or cure.

The meetings will offer up-to-date information from the medical and social sciences and provide an opportunity for members to share their problems and seek solutions together.

All meetings are without charge. The meetings are also open to interested professionals.

The support group for those in this area got under way through the efforts of Lenore Frontczak. She will take calls of inquiries evenings only at 474-5589.

FARMINGTON ARTISTS CLUB hosts Barbara Price as its first speaker of the 1981-82 season at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Farmington Hills Community Library on 12 Mile Road.

Ms. Price, a resident of Birmingham, studied art at Philadelphia College of Art and completed her graduate degrees at the University of Alabama.

Her experience in teaching art history and establishing and coordinating art history and sculpture departments are vast. Prior to coming to Cranbrook, she was with the Cocoran School of Art in Washington, D.C., where she worked as coordinator of the second-year degree program.

She was chosen one of two women to represent the U.S. in the International Women's Year exhibition in Jamaica. Her work is included in private and corporate collections as well as in government agencies.

She works in pastels, charcoal and acrylic stain on linen, often combining all mediums. She considers herself a drawer who paints.

PIONEER WOMEN, Sharona chapter, has set its next board meeting for 8 p.m. Sept. 10 in the home of Bertha Rochlen, 21670 Beverly, Oak Park.

VOYAGERS singles bowling league begins at 3 p.m. Sept. 13 in Merri Bowl Lanes, 30950 Five Mile Road, Livonia.

New bowlers are invited to call Bea Zimmerman at 425-1105 for information.

SIGMA KAPPA SORORITY, south Oakland County alumnae, meet at 6:30 p.m. Sept. 15 in the home of Marie Dodson in Royal Oak.

RSVP will be appreciated by calling Marge Powell at 553-9928.

LEAGUE OF JEWISH WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS OF GREATER DETROIT opens its season at 12:15 p.m. Sept. 17 in Congregation Beth Achim, 21100 12 Mile Road, Southfield.

"The Mask of Anti-Semitism in the '80s in Your Own Community" is the topic of discussion led by Richard Lofenthal, Michigan director of Anti-Defamation League. He will detail recent cases and incidents that have occurred in the metropolitan area.

The meeting is open to guests. A donation of $1 will be asked at the door. Coffee and dessert will be served.

The league's president for the year is Marilyn Schkne. Program vice president is Marjorie Shuman Sauson.

The league, founded in 1927, links the local divisions of national organizations of many kinds concerned with the Jewish community.

It serves as a coordinating vehicle for the interchange of thoughts and methods of procedure, strives to eliminate duplication of efforts and enrolls women in behalf of humanitarian causes.

Mrs. Sauson will take inquiries at 642-7784.

LWV hosts Helen Milliken

Helen Milliken, First Lady of Michigan, comes to Mercy Conference Center Wednesday, Sept. 16 as guest of West Bloomfield Farmington League of Women Voters.

She will speak on "Why ERA is the Bottom Line" following a 9:30 a.m. brunch in the center at 28600 Middlebelt Road.

The event is open to guests by making reservations with Anne Dziuba, 681-6264. The cost is $6.50 per person.

Mrs. Milliken is a member of League of Women Voters and National Organization for Women (NOW), both of which are long-time advocates of the passage of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

She is active in Michigan ERAmerica and has been the national co-chairperson for ERAmerica since 1978.

She was instrumental in the founding of Michigan Council for the Arts and has promoted environmental causes.

Children's Center benefit set Sept. 17

Two Farmington Hills residents are working for the success of "A Night for Adults at the Detroit Science Center," a benefit for the Children's Center that will begin at 6 p.m. Sept. 17. The Children's Center is the oldest and largest community-based provider of mental health services for infants through teens in Michigan.

Theodore A. Lewis Jr. is executive director of the Children's Center, whose headquarters is on East Alexander in Detroit's Medical Center. Five satellite locations, including a youth home, are scattered throughout the city.

Patricia Harkness is vice president of the board of directors and a member of the benefit committee.

The evening will get off to a sociable start with a wine and cheese reception while guests view the magic of David Hermetin, various scientific displays and exhibits.

Later, two wrap-around movies, "Ocean" and "Nomads of the Deep," will be shown in the Science Center's Omnimax Space Theater. The theater is one of only seven in the world designed for the showing of such three-dimensional-like films.

Admission is $40 per couple, with reservations requested by Sept. 11.

Reservations and inquiries will be taken by calling the Children's Center at 631-5555.

Artstart takes enrollments

Artstart preschool now is accepting registrations for its new private kindergarten, which opens in September in Mercy Center.

The program will be individualized, supplemented with art, music and drama. Full-day kindergarten is available.

Inquiries are taken by Sue Ingram, 474-7175.
