roll call report

House would shackle Justice on prayer

Here's how area House members were recorded on major roll call votes immediately after the summer recess. There were no Senate votes.

HOUSING — The House rejected, 188 for and 202 against, an amendment to prevent the Justice Department from requiring communities to build federally subsidized housing for the poor in keeping with the goals of the 1988 Fair Housing Act. The measure was proposed to a FY 1982 appropriations bill for Justice and other agencies. The bill (IRR 4169) was passed and sent to the Senate.

Sponsor Ronald Mottl, D-Ohio, whose home town is under court order to build low-income housing, said Justice Department housing policy "runs counter to everything we are taught in America about working and struggling to get ahead, and about the role of local people in deciding what kind of a community they wish to have.

Opponent Don Edwards, D-Californis, said "there is federal money to asnousing, all Americans are entitled to have somewhere decent to live."

Members voting yea wanted to prequiring communities to build limited amounts of housing for the poor.

Rep. William Broomfield, R-Birnigham, voted yea.

Reps. Carl Purcell, R-Plymouth, David Bonior, D-Mt. Clemens, William Ford, D-Taylor, William Brodnead, Dbetroit, and James Blanchard, DPleasant Ridge, voted may.

PRAYER — Re a vote of 333 for and PRAYER — By a vote of 333 for and 54 against, the House adopted an amendment blocking any future Justice Department action to prevent voluntary prayer in public schools. The vote came during-debate on HR 4169 seep preceding vote). Sponsor Robert Walker, R-Pennsylvania, said his amendment would remove any "chilling effect" that possible Justice Department action might have on schools planning to implement voluntary prayer programs. No opponents spoke during debate on the amendment. Members voting yea opposed Justice Department interference with schools allowing prayers to be said on a voluntary basis. Purcell, Bonior, Ford, Blanchard and Broomfield voted yea. Brodhead voted nay.

LEGAL SERVICES — The House re-jected, 122 for and 272 against, an amendment to eliminate funding for the Legal Services Corp. in fiscal year 1982. The quasi-governmental corpora-tion is a law office for the poor, elderly and others who can't alford private attorneys. The vote occurred during debate on IR 4169 (see preceding vote). Supporter James Sensenbrener, R. Wisconsin, said his amendment by the said his amendment of the said of the said his amendment of the real funds to provide legal services to the poor" because other federal funding — primarily block, grants to the states — will be available for that purposes under Reagan Administration proposes under Reagan Administration proposes under Reagan Administration proposes. Opponent Peter Rodino, D-New Jersey, said the aged poor make frequent use of the Legal Services Copp. In dealing with the Social Security Administration. "They get one of these notices that is so legalistic, they do not understand it."

stand it."
Members voting yea wanted to elim-inate the Legal Services Corp. Pursell, Bonior, Brodhead, Blanc-hard and Broomfield voted nay.
