Isn't it time for a smaller more economical car?
A Rabbit Diesel, to be precise. Think of the extraordinary mileage (EPA estimated 45 mpg. 58 highway estimate. Use "estimated mpg" for comparison. Mileage varies with speed, trip length, weather. Actual highway mileage will probably be less). then, think about the terrific road handling and performance. All in all, it's clearly time for a smaller, more economical car. As well as for a bigger ad.
