

Boneless Ham Is Easiest

By ELLY

The traditional Easter ham comes in many versions but the easiest to prepare and serve is the fully cooked, boneless variety.

Simply place the ham on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not add water and do not cover. Roast in a slow (325 degree) oven, allowing 15 minutes per pound or until meat thermometer registers 130 degrees.

Roast a "cook-before-eating" ham the same way but allow 20 to 22 minutes per pound. Meat thermometer should register 160 degrees, when it is table ready.

IF FIVE POUNDS or more are just too much ham, a one-inch, fully cooked, center-cut slice weighing about two pounds will make four servings.

For a gourmet touch try baking it in claret.

Put ham in a shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with a one teaspoon powdered mustard. Top with two cups peeled and chopped apples. Over the apples sprinkle one cup (firmly packed) brown sugar. Pour one cup claret over all. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for one hour. Uncover and bake 30 minutes longer.

MANDARIN ORANGE SAUCE

Drain one can (11 ounces) mandarin orange segments and one can (8 1/4 ounces) grapes or pineapple tidbits, reserving one-fourth cup liquid. Combine with three-fourths cup orange juice and one tablespoon cornstarch, two tablespoons sugar and one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon. Add liquids and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Fold in drained fruit. Yield: Two cups.

RAISIN SAUCE

1 c. brown sugar (firmly packed)
 4 T. vinegar
 1 1/2 t. Worcestershire sauce
 1 1/8 t. pepper
 Few grains mace
 1 c. hot water
 1 c. seedless raisins
 2 T. butter
 1/2 t. salt
 1 t. powdered cloves
 Simmer brown sugar and water together five minutes, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Add all remaining ingredients and cook slowly for one-half hour. Thicken as desired with flour and water mixed together and stirred into sauce. Serves six to eight.

BAKED HAM WITH SPICY SAUCE

1 c. orange or pineapple juice
 1/2 c. light brown sugar (packed)
 2 t. powdered mustard
 1 1/4 t. ground cloves
 1/2 t. ginger
 3 t. rum extract
 6-pound rolled, boneless fully-cooked ham (or 5-pound canned ham)
 Whole cloves
 1 T. fresh lemon juice
 1 T. arrowroot or cornstarch
 1 T. water
 Mix first six ingredients, and bring to boil. Simmer, stirring, until sugar is dissolved. Add two teaspoons rum extract. Pierce ham several times with fork and cover with marinade. Let stand for four hours, basting occasionally with marinade. Remove ham, put on rack in roasting pan and bake in preheated slow oven (325 degrees) for one hour. Remove from oven and score with knife. Stud with cloves. Increase heat to 450 degrees and bake for 30 minutes longer, basting frequently with marinade. Remove ham. Add drained raisins and lemon juice to pan drippings. Blend arrowroot and one tablespoon water and stir into mixture. Cook, stirring, until thickened. Add remaining one teaspoon rum extract. Serve sauce with ham. Makes eight to 10 servings.
