Subdivision leaders happy

The application for a foster home care license at 2526 Ivanhoe in West Bloomfield's Sylvan Manor subdivision has been withdrawn.

"Upon notification from West Bloomfield that there was another home within 1,500 feet of the Warner Foster Care home, we notified the applicants of the alternatives," said Barbaba Smalley, Pontiac area supervisor for adult foster care homes.
"The alternatives were that they could withdraw from the program or if they chose not to, that the Department of Social Services would have to proceed with a recommendation to deny the licensing. They chose to withdraw," said Smalley.

The subdivision had objected to the license for what would have been a neighborhood.

The two existing homes are just seven blocks apart at 2551 Chata in West Bloomfield and 2722 Littletell in Sylvan Lake.

"We've done our share," said Judy
Siff, Sylvan Manor subdivision association secretary.
Although she said many residents see merit in such residences, they didn't feel there should be so many facilities in one neighborhood.

TOWNSHIP CLERK Betty Sue Du-pree received a number of calls from the subdivision residents. She sent let-ters to the Micigan Department of So-cial Services and state legislators ex-plaining the township's opposition that
