

HFH emergency room lights up for youngsters

Fifteen youngsters from the Adat Shalom nursery school in Farmington Hills toured Henry Ford Hospital's West Bloomfield Center emergency room Thursday as part of a study unit on the community and the hospital.

Head Nurse Sandy Wormser led the children first to the incubator for newborns where they took turns reaching through the unit's window to feel the warmth inside.

They watched as Wormser, a West Bloomfield resident, hooked up the leads of the emergency heart monitor to one of their classmates, Jeremy Spoon, and the pattern of Jeremy's heartbeats flashed across the screen.

"I'd like each of you to know that this is a friend, not an enemy," said Wormser, as she helped the children try on a small mask used for people who come in with breathing problems.

The children listened for the "beep" of the electric thermometer as another volunteer had her temperature taken, tried on "Freddie the frog" (a finger splint) and listened to their own heartbeats on the stethoscope.

The center's 24-hour emergency room sees an average of 60 patients each day, some 35 percent of them children.

"I think this will help the children be less frightened if they should ever have a real visit to an emergency room," said Shirley Zimmerman, nurse coordinator.

David Nachman from Adat Shalom Nursery School of Farmington Hills gets his temperature taken by Nurse Wormser with an electronic device which beeps when the normal temperature is reached. Wormser later gave out sample covers which are used on the device to permit its reuse.

Henry Ford Hospital West Bloomfield Center's nurse Sandy Wormser explains the function of the emergency room to students

JOHN STANO/staff photographer

Nurse Sandy Wormser shows students how X-rays are used to help doctors determine their plan of attack when treating patients in the emergency room.

Arts Commission seeking nominations for the best

The Farmington Area Arts Commission is seeking nominations for the Artist in Residence award to be given on June 6.

Entry deadline is April 15. Those interested should fill out the accompanying coupon and mail it to Lois Bro at 33620 Hillcrest, Farmington 48024. Those with further questions can call Bro at 477-6789.

Award recipients will be notified by April 29.

Also up for grabs are the Distinguished Service awards for an individual and an award will be given an organization for its contribution to the arts.

The Artist in Residence Award is to recognize the talent and accomplishments of an individual who lives or works in the Farmington community. Candidates will be selected from the fields of art, dance, drama, literature and music.

A Service to the Arts Award will be given to a person who has performed outstanding service and deserves recognition. This year an organization also will receive this award. Both will be given for support, promotion, management or teaching the arts.

FARMINGTON AREA ARTS COMMISSION 1982 AWARDS NOMINATIONS

Nomination for:

- ☐ Artist in Residence
☐ Service to the Arts Award
☐ Individual
☐ Organization

Nominee Information

Name _____
Residence Address _____ City _____
Residence Phone _____ Business _____
Occupation or Profession _____
Position Title _____ Place of Work _____

Nominator Information

(A candidate for the awards may be nominated by an individual, an organization, a friend, a family member, or by self-nomination.)

Name _____
Residence Address _____ Residence Phone _____
Business Address _____ Business Phone _____

Please give a resume as to the contributions this individual has made to deserve this honor. Add supporting data such as exhibitions, performances, awards, professional credits and letters of recommendation to enable the committee to evaluate the candidate. Use additional pages as needed.

Return nomination by April 15, 1982.

Please mail to: Mrs. Lois Bro
33620 Hillcrest
Farmington, Michigan 48024

Notification of Award Recipient will be made after April 29, 1982.

Pierre Cardin,
an adventure

We met in Toronto. Mid-summer, along the street walk cafes. He was wearing a gorgeous smile and Pierre Cardin cologne. I think his name was Jacques. Or was it Richard. Whatever. I remember it well. Pierre Cardin for men. Cologne, 2 oz. $13; Cologne Spray, 2.8 oz. $19. In Men's Toiletries at Hudson's.

The Body Set-up: your gift with any Pierre Cardin purchase of $12 or more. You get travel size Cologne, new Body and Hand Moisturizing Lotion, new Body Cleansing Gel, Tatc, Shampoo Packette and Conditioner Packette. 1500 units* while they last, all Hudson's stores.

HUDSON'S men's store