Do you have information on the ingredients used in cosmetics? I would like to know more about them and whether or not they are safe to use.

Janis D., Troy

The Food and Drug Administration is charged with the responsibility of assuring that cosmetics are safe and pure. The FDA requires that cosmetics be truthfully and informatively packaged and labeled and that cosmetic ingredients be listed on each package.

Individual reaction to cosmetic ingredients is much the same as it is to food. What is safe to some is harmful to others. You can be allergic to the ingredients in cosmetics. If that is the case, then the particular product would not be safe for you to use. If you have a reaction from a cosmetic, then you should check with a physician. If you believe the cosmetic is mislabeled sanitary or harmful, report it to the FDA.

For more information, contact Director of Consumer Communications, Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health and Human Services, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20857.

ECO TIP: From the Michigan Traffic Safety Information Council — on April 1, an amendment to the Michigan Motor Vehicle Code became effective making it mandatory for every child under 4 traveling in a car to be secured in a restraint device such as a car seat or seat belt.
