3-session seminar set for new camera buffs

Another in the series of instructional seminars for photographers has been scheduled by Meteor Photo starting at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 5 in Meteor's Troy plant, 1099 Chicago Road.

The spring seminar will be taught by photography instructor Gerald Gazda in a sequence of three meetings. Following the opening introductory session for beginning SLR camera owners, the class will move on at 2 p.m. May 9 to Kensington Nature Center for a shooting session under Gazda's astute and skillful direction.

The final meeting will be at 7 p.m. May 12 in Meteor for a critique of the class photo work. Meteor's Harry Muenker announces a prize of a $100 gift certificate redeemable in services from Meteor for the best slide taken at the Sunday seminar. In addition, three honorable mentions will be awarded $25 gift certificates from Meteor.

Designed for the beginner who has a SLR camera to master, the Meteor Photo seminar has proven to be exceptionally popular with those who have taken earlier three-session mini-courses with Gazda. "Photographers need camera mastery first, and an artistic sense as well," says Gazda. Registration will be limited to 50 students. An entry fee of $25 will be returned to all students in the form of photographic services in that amount from Meteor. For information call 583-3690.
