Basketry workshops set

Two new basket workshops will be offered on the grounds of Farmington Community Center this spring. In the workshops, students will have a chance to work with natural materials in nature's surroundings.

The basketry workshops will be offered with instructor Theresa Ohno, a member of the Plymouth Community Arts Council and the Detroit Historic Arts Society. She has demonstrated her expertise in basketry in a recent film produced by the University of Michigan.

In a small, decorative basket using natural materials gathered from the fields in summer and fall. The small, tightly woven baskets have intricate designs using dried grasses and weed for accent decoration. The fee is $10.

A Yarn Coil Basket workshop begins at 9:30 a.m. Thursdays, May 27. The two-session workshop for $12 offers students an opportunity to complete a fiber coil basket using yarn of their choice.

Weather permitting, classes will be given on the center grounds, and students may bring their lunch if desired. Call 477-8404 to register for the workshop.
