Baptists mark 25th year

The congregation of Forest Park Baptist Church celebrates its 25th anniversary Sunday. Two former pastors of the church will return to preach that day.

Chester Halstead, who served the congregation from 1958-65, and is now professor of religion at Lancaster Bible College in Pennsylvania, will preach at the 11 a.m. service.

The morning service will be followed by a potluck luncheon at 12:30 p.m.

At the 2:30 p.m. service, Billy Whit, who was pastor of the church from 1965-71, and is now director of Michigan Baptist Convention, will give a "Victory Celebration Address."

During the afternoon service, a proclamation, signed by the mayor of Farmington Hills, will be read. It dedicates the day as one of celebration for the congregation. There will also be a short ceremony of recognition for charter members and former members of the church.

The celebration has been planned by Pastor Joe Hall who has been with the congregation since November, 1978.

Forest Park Baptist Church was begun by Pastor Marion Boyd of Eber Memorial Baptist Church in Clarenceville. For a long while it was known as Clarenceville Baptist Mission.
