Kaltreider and his commit-tee members do not forese the coordinator's job as being full time. Kaltreider says the burden of instituting the subst-ance abuse porgram would fall on the school district's curricul-um committee, carrying out suggestions and recommenda-tions made to it by the coordi-nator.

Implementation of the pro-gram itself is the responsibil-ity of the Board of Education.

FARMINGTON "Sons and Daughters," a ternes of programs directed toward an understanding of human sexuality, will be pre-sented on Channel 36 for six consecutive Wednesdays at 7; 30 p.m. Things that matter most in life are sometimes. As a series, these programs will bring into focus the sex education question as it stands now, at this time, in this state, and in the Farmington area.

How important is popularity? Things that matter most in life are sometimes the most fragile. This forms the thesis of "The Tightrope" on May 13. It explores relationships of parent to child, boy to girl, man to woman. Several unwear mothers-to-be consented to be interviewed and express their views of their predicament. So p.m. "What Life is All About" is the first presentation sched-uled for April 22, It deals with the generation gap - is it mythor or reality? With a mixture of role play-ing, music, dance, and just plain argument, sex is put in its place by the conclusion that it is an important part of life.

Young writers at Shiawassee School whose work was se-lected for the annual Young Authors' Fair held April 16, included Dona Gilewski, and Bobby Childress, grade one; John Niller and Steve Wiese, grade three; Jim Vassallo, grade four; Terry Zuhorski, grade four; and Janice Lan-don, grade six.
