Kids Big On Ecology

"Ecology," "environment" and "pollution" have become familiar, meaningful words to the boys and girls of Clarenceville's Westbrook Elementary School, 21120 Osmus, Farmington.

Students and teachers have undertaken a variety of projects to further the goals and concepts of "Earth Day" being marked today throughout the country.

FIRST GRADERS in Mrs. Betty Westbrook's class have accumulated a week's litter from the school grounds to display. In Miss Joan McClasky's third grade, the students have composed their own lyrics to the song "Where Have All the Flowers Gone?"

Fourth graders who are studying Michigan along with environmental education prepared a large map of the state depicting Michigan's own unique pollution problems. This class, under Mrs. Elsie Ahonen's supervision, prepared a detergent box display which shows the products that contribute the most pollutants and the least to our water supply. They also built dioramas picturing the harmful effects of pesticides and poisons on people and produce.

Paul Shultz' fifth graders built a modern industrial city titled "Pollution: It's a Killer" with smokesacks, litter and exhaust fumes illustrating the story of what is happening to America's large cities.

SIXTH GRADE teacher Mrs. Dorothy Cox has made an original slide-tape presentation on "Pollution." It shows familiar scenes in the school area and in the Farmington-Livonia community with regard to pollution and how boys and girls can help with the problem.
