

Cleanup Drive Held Again During May

REMOVING DANGER -- Playing in cardboard boxes is lots of fun for the younger set but playing inside abandoned refrigerators is very dangerous. If you want to keep your good junk but get rid of the dangerous stuff, Farmington Township wants to help.

L.C. Minier Retires

The Department of State Highways has announced the retirement of Leonard C. Minier of 21450 Jefferson, Farmington. He has been a highway construction aide assigned to the traffic and safety division in Lansing.

With the department for 10 years and a native of Dollar Bay, Minier joined the department as an engineering aide. A graduate of Newberry High School, he formerly worked as a laborer in McMillan and Gorman.

Drug Symposium Features Panel

Four Farmington groups are among those sponsoring a meeting entitled "Drug Addiction and Action Involvement" May 8 in Birmingham's First Presbyterian Church, 1669 W. Maple, beginning at 8 p.m.

The Farmington Chapters of American Association of University Women, PTA Council, Republican Womens Club and YMCA are among the 26 church and civic organizations sponsoring the meeting.

THE MEETING will deal with the history of illicit narcotics in this area and outline a plan of action by citizen volunteers.

The program is designed for action beyond education in which the ideas and opinions of young people as well as adults will be considered.

Panelists will present detailed recommendations for the kinds of facilities which should be established in Oakland County.

Gerald St. Souver, director of Oakland County's new drug abuse program, and Arthur Jalkanen, dean of students at the Auburn Campus of Oakland Community College and chairman of the county's drug abuse committee, will open the panel discussion. Oakland County Prosecutor Thomas Pjuntett will introduce the panel.

Also on the panel is Gerald Clemencon, director of the Oakland County Volunteer Bureau and Richard Martin, a former addict who is a member of the drug counseling staff at Harper Hospital.

Give 'em growth bonds

(they'll think twice as much of you when they're cashed in)

By the time they're ready ... for college, their first car, an apartment ... when your gift can really mean something, it will have doubled in value. That's why new Guaranteed Growth Bonds make such great gifts ... gifts with a future.

You can buy a $25.00 bond for $12.50, a $50.00 bond for $25.00, etc. Other maturity value denominations include $100.00, $500.00, $1,000.00 and $5,000.00. And, the new bonds can be registered in another person's name without any "red tape".

If the bonds must be cashed in before maturity, they can be ... on any three month anniversary of their issue date, or for ten days thereafter, at 5% compounded interest.

Give 'em gifts with a future. Give them new Guaranteed Growth Bonds, available at any Livonia National Bank office.

Open Mon, Thur Sat. 10:4:30 P.M. ... 10:6:00 P.M. Fri.
