Fashions on display

Original ladies' fashions from 1860-1910 will be on display in Plymouth Historical Museum through July 3.
Examples of clothing from each of the six decades, notably from 1860, will allow the viewer to see each significant style change and the range of materials and decorative talents used in making many of the pieces.
The full-ermined dresses of the 1860s, the leg-o-mutton sleeve of the 1870s and the princess dress of the 1890s will be on display. There are day dresses, party dresses, walking suits and undergarments in the exhibit.
The Plymouth Historical Museum, 155 S. Main Street, is open to the public 1-4 p.m. Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. There is an admission charge of $1 for adults, 50 cents for youth and 25 cents for children.

Mercy plans summer camp for youth

Art in the fast lane
The 1983 Detroit Grand Prix poster was designed by Joseph Grey II of Birmingham. He is the senior art director of Campbell-Ewald Co. Grey used an 18-color silk screen to convey the happy festival atmosphere associated with the Grand Prix World Championship racing series that takes place on four continents. The Detroit Grand Prix will be held June 3-5. Posters are available at Track-side Trends in the Renaissance Center and poster outlets throughout the Detroit area.
