

How to enjoy carillon concert

Christ Church Cranbrook will continue its series of free Sunday concerts with a variety of musical selections for carillon at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Guest carillonneur Roland Richter, who is Kirk in the Hills associate carillonneur as well as teacher in the Pontiac schools, will perform lullabies, spirituals and light pieces along with selections by Bach and Handel.

Highlights will be Van der Gheyn's Prelude No. 10, Bach "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" and Handel's Sonata for a Musical Clock plus Andante and Allegretto from "Sonatine for Bells" by Balkov and "Fanfare en Rondeau" by Mouret.

The best way to enjoy a carillon recital is from the church lawn. Most visitors bring lawn chairs or a blanket for comfortable relaxing.

Within the series which runs June through September, selections range from Bach to the Beatles. Guest recitalists come from as far as The Netherlands and France or as close as neighboring Bloomfield Township.

Docent-conducted tours of Christ Church, known for its modern Gothic architecture, are offered each Sunday during the summer beginning at 3 p.m. The church is at Cranbrook and Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills.

Focusing on the famous

Local photographer Linda Solomon has her second show of photographs of well-known and famous contemporaries at Somerset Mall through Saturday, Aug. 20. Above is her shot of one of the most publicized ladies of this decade, Jane Fonda, and at right is Kris Kristofferson, who has almost as many talents as the lady who photographed him. Solomon, an established photographer and photojournalist, came into national prominence with her shot taken at the Republican National Convention in Detroit of Mary Cunningham and William Avera, when their relationship was still technically a secret. Somerset Mall is at Big Beaver and Coolidge, Troy.
