

roll call report

Supporter William Dannehey, R-Calif., said the abortion issue had "fiscal consequences" in view of the nation's declining fertility rate and rising debt, because "if we are going to pay off this debt, somebody has got to be born to pay the taxes to pay it off."

Opponent Barbara Mikulski, D-Md., said she was "shocked to hear that American women are meant to be broader reactors to sustain civilization and pay off the deficit."

Members voting yes opposed any federal funding of abortions.

Voting yes: Hertel, Broomfield. Voting no: Farrell, Ford, Levin.

Although this was the strictest anti-abortion language ever approved by the House, it stood little chance of surviving the House-Senate conference on HR 3913.

Seiko dedicates its new TRAINING TIMER to the serious runner.

Now, your own personal coach. The dial shows your present target time and actual running time. A runner can preset up to 8 target times. An alarm sounds as each is reached. The touch of a button or a handy cable release attachment stores your actual running time for future comparison with target times. (Runners can record finish time of each of eight different runners in a race.) Day/date watch/approach to 1000 records, water-resistant to 100 feet. SENATE

LEBANON: By a vote of 54-45, the Senate approved a resolution empowering President Reagan to keep U.S. Marines in Lebanon as part of a multi-national peacekeeping force for up to 18 additional months.

The House earlier granted the same authority under the War Powers Act (see above), and the measure was sent to Reagan for his signature.

Supporter Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said giving the president a free hand with the Marines for 18 months is essential because "history shows that it is dangerous for Congress to intervene in military command decisions."

Opponent Edward Kennedy, D-Mass.,

said: "Some say that Lebanon is not another Vietnam. But I reply, we must not give the president the power to turn it into one."

Senators voting yes supported keeping Marines in Lebanon for as many as 18 more months.

Michigan's Democratic senators, Carl Levin and Donald Riegle voted no.

EXPLAIN: By a vote of 55-43, the Senate tabled (killed) an amendment to SJ Res 189 (see above) requiring President Reagan to explain to the satisfaction of Congress why U.S. Marines should remain in Lebanon for a lengthy period.

Drafted by Democrats as an alternative to an 18-month deployment, the amendment called for bringing the Marines home after 60 days unless the president had by then justified the military action to Congress.

Supporter Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., said it was necessary "to Congress."

Senators voting no wanted the president to justify his decision to keep Marines in Lebanon.

Levin voted no. Riegle voted no.

THE UNITED NATIONS: The Senate adopted, 56-23, an amendment to cut the U.S. contribution to the United Nations and some of its agencies by $500 million over the next four years.

In fiscal 1984, this would reduce American support by 21 percent below the administration's budget request.

The cut would be softer but still deep, between 1983-87.

The amendment was attached to the State Department authorization bill (S 1342), which later was sent to conference with the House.

Sponsor Nancy Kassebaum, R-Kans., said she was "a firm believer" in the UN but felt it would work better with a thinner staff that was less politicized and less bureaucratized.

Opponent Charles Percy, R-Ill., said the UN "is not run with the efficiency we would like to see, but neither is the Senate and neither is the House."

Senators voting yes wanted to significantly cut U.S. support of the UN budget. Levin and Riegle voted no.
