Caucus Club offers new items on menu

By Ethel Simmons
staff writer

Chief Jimmy Schmidt oversees food preparation not only for the prestigious London Chop House but also its sister restaurant, the more informal Caucus Club.

Both downtown Detroit restaurants have been owned for a year now by Max and Lanie Pincus of Bloomfield Hills. One of Max's special pleasures is presiding over the Chocolate Club, an invitational group whose members taste three chocolate creations each month prepared by the chef. The dessert they judge the best is placed on the menu for a month. Desserts, as well as breads, are all made in the restaurants' own bakery.

The menu at the Caucus Club features a broad selection of dishes, including some new additions reflecting the California-style cooking that is a specialty with chef Schmidt.

At lunch, among the more interesting salad and cold plates is Duck Salad, featuring chilled duck with snow peas, broccoli, mushrooms and fresh ginger, served with lemon dressing, for $11.75. A Caesar Salad Bowl is available for $7.50.

FISH AND seafood includes Grilled Gulf White Shrimp Mistrail, with scallops and herbed garlic butter and rice pilaf, at $15.50. Lake Pickerel Fillets with new potatoes are $12.25.

Also offered at lunch are a variety of omelets at $7.75, including New York White Cheddar Cheese. Sam Adams Lunchees are basics such as Corned Beef Hash with warm chili sauce and poached egg at $8.50 and Sliced London Broil on rice toast, with mushroom sauce, and hash brown potatoes, at $9.95.

Great Gourmands' Sandwiches, plums ribs and steaks from the grill, are other selections.

There's an extensive wine list from the Caucus Club Cellars, and a choice of wines is available by the glass as well as the bottle.

At dinner, featured entrees are Breast of Chicken, Milk White Veal Scaloppini Champagne, Grilled Loin Chops of Milk White Veal Ciboulette, Roast Rack of Baby Lamb, and Grilled Prime Beef Tenderloin Steak, at prices ranging from $14.75 to $21.25.

Char-broiled steaks, ribs and chops are among grill selections. Fish and seafood include Norwegian Salmon Fillet and Bay Scallops Fettuccini. Beefsteak Tartare is on the salad and cold plates.

Each month there's a featured wine, offered by bottle or glass, and a special entree.

THE CAUCUS Club is especially popular with judges and lawyers. The restaurant's traditional decor is enhanced by a colorful collection of Toby mugs.

Entertainment includes an early-evening jazz series, with top-flight metropolitan Detroit performers, Tuesdays-Saturdays. The Joe Lo Duca Trio continues through Saturday.

The Caucus Club is at 150 W. Congress in the Penobscot Building. Hours are 7:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. Tuesdays-Saturdays. For reservations, call 965-4970.

In pursuit

Richard Klatsch is Joseph Percival, the object of the affection of Hypatia Tarleton, played by Melanie V. Metcalf, in the George Bernard Shaw comedy "Misalliance." Previews on the Wayne State University campus continue at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Hilberry Theatre, Cass and Hancock, Detroit. Opening night is Dec. 1. For ticket information, call 577-2972.

Symphony ends year with budget surplus

For the first time in six years, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra has ended a year in the black.

DSO Chairman Walter J. McCarthy Jr. made the announcement at the organization's annual meeting last week. Members of the organization have contributed $150 or more to the DSO in any given year.

The symphony ended fiscal 1982-83 on Aug. 31 with an operating surplus of $26,710. The last time the symphony ended a year in the black was in 1975-76.

"This achievement, following 6 years of financial distress augurs well for the future health and success of the symphony," McCarthy and Oleg Lobanov, DSO executive vice president and managing director, said in the annual report.
