Sex Study Report Due

A report on recommendations to add human sexuality instruction to the curriculum of Farmington Public Schools will be made Tuesday (May 26) at 8 p.m. in the school administration building on Shiawassee west of Power Rd.

wassee west of Power Rd.

The human sexuality task force, chaired by Dr.
Murray Deighton, will give its report to the full Family Life Education (FLE) committee
The FLE committee will review the recommendations and make a decision on recommending the report to the Farmington Board of Education.

The FLE committee, led by the Rev. Hugh Stewart, was commissioned by the Farmington Board of Education 18 months ago and has been working for the past year on three curriculum areas:
substance abuse; minority understanding; and, human sexuality.

The substance abuse report has already been approved in principle and instructed the school adminsistration to began implementing the recommendations.

The minority understanding report has been pre-sented to the school board which will be deciding on those recommendations in the near future.

THE BOARD of Education recently permitted a small group of students at North Farmington High School MC at North Farmington. Reportedly, fewer than 10 of North Farmington's student body of nearly 1,500 are members of the group. Several factulty members at North Farmington act as faculty advisors.

mington act as faculty advisors.
The school board has received many letters in support and in opposition to the group. Platt, campaigning for one of two four year positions to be filled in the June 8 election, says the SMC nationally has adopted strikes, sit ins, parades or riots as a protest against the war in Vietnam. "Members of the Farmington Board of Education have offered the preposterous conjecture that the SMC is in some way similar to the Young Democrator of Teen Age Reditschans in merely being a politically oriented extra-cupiest student activity." Platt Says.

"IF IT IS NOT, the intent of this group to do as their national organization is doing, or actively provide background support for such activities, why do they have the same names?
