

'Celebration of Life' ends protest

Amid balloons, confetti and streamers, protesters Friday ended their weeklong protest outside a defense supplier's plant with a "Celebration of Life."

"It was all in the spirit of play and celebration and for us the hopefulness of the Advent season," said spokeswoman Mary Girard, who also brought fresh carnations to give to plant workers.

Five members of Covenant for Peace, a nine-member faith community which organized the protest, were arrested Friday with five others.

Last week, 54 were jailed for violating a court injunction forbidding trespassing at Williams International Corp. in Walled Lake. All but two were arrested for blocking cars from coming into the driveway of the plant which manufactures gas turbine engines for vehicles including cruise missiles.

Not a part of the organized protest but arrested, nevertheless, by Oakland County sheriff's deputies, were English peace camper Jean Hutchinson, who supported the protest, and Paul Tinkertess, a campus minister at Michigan State University whose friends said he was merely walking with the Englishwoman when she was arrested.

Thursday night authorities searched the belongings of the Rev. Peter Dougherty, who helped organize the protest with other Covenant for Peace members.

THE BLOCKADERS are charged with two misdemeanors — trespassing and conspiracy to commit a misdemeanor. Almost all stood mute on the charges and had not guilty pleas entered for them at their arraignments.

During arraignments on the contempt of the court order barring trespass at the Williams property, Oakland Circuit Judge George LaPlata handed down sentences of 30 days in jail and set bond at $5,000.

MADD vigil honors drunk driver victims

Mothers Against Drunk Drivers (MADD) will hold candlelight vigils Monday, Dec. 12, around the country and in Canada.

The ceremonies will honor those who were killed or crippled by drunk drivers. The names of people who died because of intoxicated drivers during 1983 will be read, and a candle will be lit in their memory.

Members of MADD and Concerned Citizens of Oakland County will meet at 8 p.m. at the Oakland County Courthouse Complex, 1200 N. Telegraph, Pontiac.

"National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week" will be Dec. 11-17. Anyone wishing the name of someone read at the vigil should contact Penny Blen at 666-1585.
