Hunting Cheeta

Hunting Cheeta
For short distances the cheeta is supposed to be the swiftest quadruped. However, it is not possible to ascribe the bonor definitely to any particular admini. The cheeta, which is found in Asialanda Artica, is a large tropical cat, slender of body and limb. It is from three to four feet long and of a pale, taway color, marked with numerous dark spots on its addes and beck and aimost white beneath. It resembles the leopard, and a order can be supposed in deality. Its our is not sleek like (bat of typical cats. It has a rong tall, which is somewhat bushy at the end.

Scent in Gems

Scent in Geins
The perfume of precious stones was discussed in a lecture li Geneva recently, says the New York World, by the French jewel expert De Henselaer. Some stones, such as the emeraith, he said, give a subtle, pleasant scent when reduced to phwder, while others, among them diambids, have a disagreeable odor.
