Subscriptions On Sale For U-M Fall Festival

The Professional Theatre Program of the University of Michigan will present a new Fall Festival of Contemporary Theatre, featuring three current successes, Oct. 12-31, in Ann Arbor.

Allen Fletcher, former artistic director of the American Shakespeare Festival and the Seattle Repertory Theatre, who has directed for New York City Opera, American Conservatory Theatre (ACT) and APA will head the newly formed Actors Company, which will make its debut under the Professional Theatre Program banner at Michigan. The Actors Company will include leading players from the APA and other major repertory ensembles.

THE CONTEMPORARY Theatre Festival will be launched next fall at Mendelssohn Theatre with "In the Matter of J. Robert Oppenheimer," which scored a recent success at New York Lincoln Center and has just completed a national tour.

A gripping dramatization of the controversy which swirled about the brilliant nuclear scientist, "Oppenheimer" won the accolade of the Broadway critics as "powerful and profoundly moving."

Ron Cowan, the gifted young author of "Summertree," current off-Broadway long-run hit, won the Obie award for this sensitive and poetic drama of a young soldier reliving his life in moving flashbacks.

"This beautiful play may well speak for a generation. It must be seen," declared New York Times reviewer Clive Barnes. "Summertree" will be the second Festival producton.

Climaxing the Fall Festival will be Jules Feiffer's "Little Murders," hailed as "fantastically funny" and "One of the finest comedies of the season." A recent New York and London hit, "Little Murders" is a brilliant satire on urban violence by the celebrated cartoonist-playwright.
