Symphony Opens New Series June 11

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra's 18th consecutive season of free "Symphony Under the Stars" concerts at the Michigan State Fairgrounds will open Thursday evening, June 11.

Valter Poole will conduct all of the performances, scheduled ... Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays through ...

... time will be 8:30 ... the Fairgrounds Music ... near Woodward and ... Mile.

THERE'LL BE one exception ... schedule, however. ... an evening concert ... Fairgrounds on Sunday, ... the orchestra and ... will present a 3 p.m. performance on the Kern ... downtown Detroit. ... will be admission-...

... in previous years, the ... series of programs is ... presented by the Detroit ... The Michigan State ... and the Music Performance Trust Funds of the Recording Industries in conjunction with the Detroit Federation of Musicians.

... sponsors also will present the June 14 Kern Block performance, in cooperation with the Central Business District Committee.

EACH PROGRAM will have a nationalistic motif, with French music to be performed on June 11, Spanish and Scandinavian on June 12, German and Viennese on June 13, American on June 14 (Flag Day). Also British music on June 18, Italian on June 19, Polish and Hungarian on June 20, and Russian on June 21.

Several Detroit Symphony members will be featured as soloists during the series. Jerome Rosen, associate concertmaster, will perform Saint Saens' "Havanaise" and "Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso" at the opening concert and Handel's Largo from "Xerxes" June 18. Frank Kaderabek, principal tumpeter, will be heard in the Hummel "Concerto in E-Flat for Trumpet and Orchestra" June 13 and in the Purcell "Trumpet Voluntary" on June 18.

Other symphony personnel in solo roles will include Al Belknap, who will be featured in Bozza's "Concertino for Trumpet and Orchestra" June 20, and Saul Bernat, manager of the symphony, who will narrate Prokofiev's "Peter and the Wolf" at the concluding concert June 21.

Marion Wright, soprano, who recently was featured with the orchestra during its visits to inner-city schools, will appear at the June 14 Kern Block matinee. She will sing Arias from the opera "Marriage of pigaro," "Lohengrin," and "Turandot," two spirituals, and "My Man's Gone Now" from "Porgy and Bess."

'Hair' Aids Art Institute

The premiere performance of "Hair" in Detroit will be a benefit for the Friends of Modern Art.

Supporters of the contemporary program of the Detroit Institute of Arts are inviting area patrons to join them at the Vest Pocket Theatre for the rock musical's local debut Monday, June 15.

Patrons who pay $50 a ticket--most of it tax deductible--also will attend an after-theater party with the young cast of "Hair" at the Hotel Pontchartrain. A $25 ticket also is available.

Anyone wishing to benefit the museum program of buying contemporary art and to enjoy the first showing of the talked-about entertainment is asked to contact Mrs. Virginia Carter at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

TV Stars Will Be In Michigan

Imogene Coca, Alan Sues of "Laugh-In," Vivian Vance, Bob Horton of "Wagon Train," Carol Burnett's Lyle Waggoner, Peter Marshall and Jane Kean from "The Gleason Show" will all be in Michigan this summer.

They are scheduled for appearances in the 16th summer season in the Cherry County Playhouse, Traverse City. The Playhouse stages its shows in the air-conditioned domed theater in the Park Place Motor Inn.

• • •

ALAN SUES will open the season in the comedy, "Something Different," which runs July 7 to 12.

Jane Kean will star as the glamorous friend of a maddening but lovable conductor in "Once More, With Feeling," an amusing spoof of the world of music, July 14 to 19.

"Under the Yum-Yum Tree," starring Robert Horton, will be seen July 21 to 26.

A jet-age comedy about a philandering pilot, "Boeing, Boeing," takes off July 28 to Aug. 2, with Lyle Waggoner.

• • •

AUG. 4 TO 9 Imogene Coca will appear, with King Donovan, in Woody Allen's hilarious account of life in the U.S. Embassy of a small Iron Curtain country, "Don't Drink the Water."

Peter Marshall, who broke Playhouse records with "Cactus Flower" last summer will star Aug. 11 to 16 in "The Only Game in Town," a comedy-romance about a pair of lovers in Las Vegas.

Aug. 18 to 23, the Playhouse will have a pre-Broadway run of "Beginner's Luck," starring Bob Crane of "Hogan's Heroes."

• • •

VIVIAN VANCE will return to the Playhouse to star in her recent Broadway success "Your Daughter, My Son," a comic tale of tangled wedding plans. She will be seen Aug. 25 to 30.

The final play of the season, Sept. 1 to 6, will be announced shortly.

For discount subscriptions, write to the Cherry County Playhouse, Box 661, Traverse City, 49684.

Will-O-Way Sets 'Luv'

The summer season at Will-O-Way Theatre, 775 W. Long Lake, Bloomfield Hills, will open with "Luv" a comedy by Murray Schisgal with weekend performances, June 12, 13 and 14.

Hal Youngblood, executive producer of WJR and recently appointed by President Nixon to the Advisory Commission on the Arts, directed "Luv". Youngblood is also the director of "Focus", a daytime radio interview show.

Furious at the thought that anyone, anywhere, might have been more maltreated than they, "Luv" revolves around two men and a woman. The Broadway version starred Eli Wallach, Anne Jackson and Alan Arkin. Later a movie was made with Jack Lemmon, Peter Falk and Elaine May.

Will-O-Way's cast will feature Ellen Worcester as Ellen Manville; Marty Colbeck as Harry Berlin; and Chuck Neal as Milt Manville.

Curtain is 8:30 p.m. for all performances. Reservation phone is 644-4418. Ticket prices are $3 Friday and Saturday, and $2.50, Sunday evenings.

Motor Skills Are Stressed

Motor skills and muscle coordination are emphasized in pre-school classes at the Northwestern Family YMCA, 21755 W. Seven Mile Road. Children three months to three years are accompanied by a parent for both swimming lessons and gym-exercise sessions, each Tuesday or Thursday morning.

Children four and five years old learn to swim and exercise independently from their mothers. This age group meets on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. The five week class sessions start the week of June 22.
