

MEET TIM RICHARD...

the News Editor who knows the news

Some Stories Tim Richard's Done

Covered Presidents Johnson and Nixon . . . and did stories on precinct delegates who go door-to-door

Covered Congress (the late Clare Hoffman's last fight) . . . and the annual meeting of Oronoko Township

Interviewed University of Michigan President Robben Fleming . . . and the first economics teacher Gardner Ackley ever had Covered Republican National Convention at Miami Beach . . . and a national conference of the Prohibition Party in a tiny Methodist Church in Kalamazoo

Covered Teamster President James Hoffa (before trials) . . . and a solitary painters' union leader on a picket line

Reviewed chamber music concerts . . . and went through a day in the life of a Peace Corps trainee

Covered an appearance by Werner Von Braun . . . and interviewed a postman who collected Horatio Alger novels

Interviewed the late Bishop James A. Pike . . . and did a prize-winning interview in a jail with a woman whose confession broke up a state-wide shoplifting ring

Covered the annual meeting of the Upjohn Co. . . . and a day in the life of commercial fishermen on a Lake Michigan tug

Crashed a closed meeting of the John Birch society . . . and covered an appearance by the Socialist Workers presidential candidate

Reviewed Shakespearean plays . . . and a children's puppet play in a suburban back yard

Wrote a prize-winning story on a mathematical analysis course . . . and was responsible for one of the first series in the nation on the recent growth of astrology

Researched volumes of Supreme Court decisions for news stories . . . and read first graders' interpretations of the first Christmas

Some Awards Tim Richard's Won

1960-1965 . . . 6 newswriting awards from the Michigan Press Editorial Association (including 3 firsts)

1963 . . . cited for Distinguished Reporting of Public Affairs by the American Political Science Association

1968 . . . Suburban Press Foundation citation for feature writing

1969 . . . Suburban Press Foundation citation for editorial writing

Tim Richard, a product of northwest Detroit, Redford High School and the University of Michigan is a veteran of St. Joseph Herald-Press, and the Kalamazoo Gazette. He is the award-winning News Editor of Observer Newspapers, Inc. He keeps his eye on O.N.I. Let him know how you like the job he's doing.

*observer
newspapers, inc.*

271 South Main Street, Plymouth, telephone 453-5500