EFFICIENT SERVICE To the average person "efficiency" has become a byword with but little significance. Correspondence schools, politicians and alleged "experts" who pretend to show the successful business man where he has lost fabulous sums through inefficiency, have worked it to death and a once dignified and expressive term is rapidly degenerating into a burlesque.

There are a few rare instances where the expression still retains its pristine meaning and charm. "Efficient Service," as applied to the official record of O. B. Fuller, present auditor general of the state of Michigan, rings true. Mr. Fuller is not only efficient, but is fearless, in the discharge of his duty.

We are not paucially acquainted with Mr. Fuller, but we do know that his reputation as a careful and painstaking official is such that makes him a valuable servant at Lansing, in just the position where ability is most needed. In the course of a recent conversation with the editor of the Enterprise a Mr. Clemens man, who had just returned from Lansing where he had business in the auditor general's office, stated that O. B. Fuller was a man of rare ability and that his services were of incalculable value to the state of Michigan. To which we replied, "that from a Democrat is certainly a fine endorsement."

THE LOCAL BANKER How many hard earned dollars are lost every year by Farmington people in wildcat investments. Nobody knows, for the man who loses keeps his mistakes to himself.

If he had put his money in a local enterprise and it had failed through no fault of anybody, he would raise his voice to the house tops. But when he is taken in by the "get rich quick" schemer, he has nothing to say. So we want to make a little suggestion to all people who have a little money to invest. Don't let the glit promoter hypnotize you. Put your name on the dotted line. Ask him whether he would invest in this scheme. Find out what he has to offer in the way of investments—learn where you can put your money so as to be sure of getting at least the principal back. Your banker knows you and you know him. He is going to make his home in Farmington for many years. He needs your good will and you need his advice. So we suggest that you talk it over with him first.

Anyway if you think you must gamble with your savings, why put your money into a game in which all the cards are stacked against you.

WHO GETS THEM? An Oakland county farmer informs the editor that this talk about agricultural prosperity sounds good to him, but when he looks at his bank account he still wonders who is getting these millions that better prices are bringing to farmers.

Some politicians are now busy telling us what is wrong with the country, but will hazard the suggestion that it is simply an incurable case of human nature.

Helping to do things for Farmington is merely an indirect way of helping yourself.

USED BY SUCCESSFUL MEN. If you don't believe in newspaper space and printers' ink as business getters, then you had better take lessons in how to succeed from the man who has failed.

IT ALL DEPENDS When you are driving in heavy traffic you think that foolish pedestrians are responsible for most accidents, but when you are walking you agree that there are altogether too many fool drivers.

FARMINGTON CITIZEN ENTHUSES MR. ALLEN. One of the most important ofices to be voted for at the coming primary election and probably the most deeply interested in, is the office of County Road Commissioner.

The office requires a vast expenditure of money which is distributed over the entire county not only in the building of good roads but in the maintenance of roads already built. The office requires a man of keen and objective judgment one who knows the needs of the entire county and one who can be entirely relied upon to give the taxpayers the most possible for their money. Probably no better man is qualified to fulfill all of these requirements than Luther D. Allen, who has been a practical conservative business man of the county all of his life, is now chairman of the Board of Supervisors and is thoroughly in touch with road work and the requirements of the county. It is believed that Mr. Allen is nominated and elected to the office of commissioner he will do credit to himself and will handle his part of the office in a business like way very much to the satisfaction of the entire county. HARRY N. McCracken.

TO THE VOTERS OF OAKLAND COUNTY

I have tried to see as many of the voters as possible during the campaign, which is almost closed, but I will realize it is physically impossible to visit each of the 35,000 or 40,000 registered voters in Oakland County.

There are a few things I wish to bring to your attention. My appointment is seeking a third term as County Treasurer, a thing which has been unlawful in Michigan until the sessions of the last legislature, but I believe if it was a good law for Michigan for 80 years it is still good practice today. I wish each voter would inform themselves as to some of the big things accomplished by the Board of Supervisors of Oakland County during the two years I was its chairman. I will briefly mention a few of them. The completion of the new jail, the remodeling of the old one saving the county from ten to fifteen thousand dollars for office rental, the creation of a County Welfare Board, which has made such a splendid showing; the establishment of a farmers' or caburn --- pill or fill in ers or curb market, in the city of Pontiac; the adoption of the budget system, thereby limiting the expenditures of each department of the county; the employing of a county accountant, eliminating the necessity of employing outside accountants at an enormous expense, also making it possible to know the exact condition of each county fund at the close of each day; the creation of a sinking fund of approximately $30,000, and the authorization of $150,000 additional by the voters of Oakland County to provide a home and hospital for the indigent and unfortunate of the county.

I set forth at length in my announcements of my candidacy, my qualifications and I wish to again assure the public, if nominated and elected, that my treasury will be a scrupulously efficient and economical administration of the office. Very truly yours, FRED DERNBERGER.

Be Ten-Cents-ible and insist on Just as much is not Just as good. Over one-third of all the tobacco chewers in the United States have proved that. The demand for BEECH-NUT Chewing Tobacco alone is more than 250 million packages in a single year.
