linen with a panel of Venice lace and lace-trimmed sleeves and a chapel train. A pleated linen and lace headpiece held her shoulder-length illusion veil, and she carried white and pastel roses with babies' breath and blue statice.

SUSAN RAND of Washington was maid of honor and Karen Bond of Jackson was bridesmaid. They wore print linen skirts with natural linen blouses and apricot fringed sashes. They carried long-stemmed pastel roses.

Assisting the bridegroom were Lester Pittle of Virginia as best man and David Praver of Ohio and Samuel Olf of Troy, Mich., as ushers.

MRS. BAUGHMAN wore a beige lace gown and Mrs. Alderman wore pale blue. Mrs. Margaret Baughman, grandmother of the bride, wore Kelly green.

The reception for 100 was held in the Hilton Ambassador Hotel in Ann Arbor.

The couple honeymooned on Long Island before returning to Storrs, Conn., where both are doing graduate work at the University of Connecticut.

4-H Club Members Work On Projects

Members of the 4-H Clubs throughout the country work on projects related to the farm in a competition sponsored by International Harvester Co. and administered by the national 4-H service committee.

Four honor medals are awarded per county for boys and girls completing the most noteworthy projects.

One of these winners will be selected by the state office as the state award winner, and will be a delegate to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago as a guest of Harvester.

FROM AMONG all state winners, six teenagers will be named to receive a $600 national scholarship.

Individual projects range from renting a small plot of land for growing tomatoes to using a stall in a friend's barn to raise an animal.

A city boy whose parents inherited a 40-acre farm when he was 10 was a national winner last year.

SAID the 17-year-old youth, "My father knew nothing about the farm either. However, with the aid of the county extension agent, 4-H leader, and a lot of other people, and by reading everything I could find, attending meetings, field days, shows, and sales, I learned enough to accumulate a herd of 32 registered Angus."

Now he manages the small farm. "I wish my grandfather could see the 40 acres now," he mused. "I'm sure he'd say, 'A job well done!'"
