

Disappointing Lions To Lift Lid On Schedule

The bright moments of early August have faded into the dark moments of early September... as far as the Detroit Lions are concerned.

It was all excitement when the Lions stormed off the field with an impressive exhibition victory over the Baltimore Colts. The offense never had looked better, nor had the defense. Then, the Lions ran into a bit of trouble and at the same time looked weak in losing to the Washington Redskins.

They (meaning the Lions) avoided the penalties last Saturday night against the New York Jets, but still the Lions' offense never looked worse in wading up a 9-6 loser.

Just two field goals—that's all the Lions could muster against the Jets, who aren't rated one of the top teams in the American Football League.

NOW THE preliminaries are over for the Lions. Comes Sunday, the Lions open their bid for championship honors in the National Football League's Central Division when they invade Dallas to battle the Cowboys, runner up to Green Bay for the loop crown last season.

Coach Joe Schmidt admits he's concerned about the down-improve the team. So will flankers like Earl McCulloch and the newly acquired Billy Gambrell from the St. Louis Cardinals.

ONE THING is for sure, as soon as the Lions learn to play with each other, they'll force opposing defenses to respect them considerably more than in the past.

But it takes time for players to adjust... and after two months in training camp and in exhibitions, the Lions continue to leave many questions unanswered.

Salem Hills Slates Meet On Weekend

Salem Hills Golf Club will conduct its fourth amateur golf tournament of the season—a two-day bestball event—on Saturday and Sunday, pro-manager Robert Gallagher announced.

The time for the two-day event will be 2 p.m. each day. Entry fee is $10 for the 36 holes of golf. Four dollars of each fee will be turned into a prize fund. All prizes will be redeemable in merchandise at the clubhouse.

The Lions' passing and running hasn't jelled the way Schmidt had expected.

"True, we have juggled a lot of players and brought in several new ones," Schmidt admits. "But, we should have looked better than we did, both against Washington and New York."

SCHMIDT DOESN'T believe that the lack of incentive caused by playing in an exhibition might have retarded the Lions' showings.

"Too many of our fellows are fighting for jobs to have not put out what a coach expects of them," declared Schmidt.

Still there's reason to see the brighter days coming back for the Lions.

If Munson is okay, he'll give the Lions their soundest all-around quarterback in several years.

Runners like Mel Farr must

THREE AREA gridders figure high in the plans of the University of Michigan this year and may land varsity berths. They are: (from left) Eric Federico, all-state fullback from Trenton; Lance Scheffler, all-state fullback from Trenton; and Jerry Insland, an all-state end from Northville. Insland transferred from the University of Kentucky and is a junior as is Federico while Scheffler is a sophomore.

U-M Seeks Split End For Wide Open Attack

ANN ARBOR -- Michigan Coach Bump Elliott has promised a more wide-open attack for the Wolverines this year. The passing game, consequently, will become an extremely important weapon.

Dennis Brown is a proven passer, but his favorite target of a year ago, Jim Bertine, had graduated, so a search for a replacement is on.

Elliott has had a knack for finding great receivers. In the recent past they included John Henderson, All-American Jack Clancy and Bertine. End Coach George Mans reports any one of several boys could be the CURRENTLY holding down the starting job at split end position is Bill Harris, a 6-1, 195-pound junior from Mt. Clemens. Harris, with good speed, won the job during spring workouts, yet lacked the consistency needed to be an outstanding receiver.

He will be pushed by Jerry Insland (210, Jr., Northville), a transfer student from Kentucky Jerry Dutcher (6-2, Soph., Cornum), and Tom McCaffrey (185, Soph., Silver Springs, Md.) Mans says Dutcher has shown great improvement and that any one of the four with a good performance during preseason drills could win the starting job.

The tight end and flanker positions are more settled. Letterman Jim Mandich returns at tight end, some 15 pounds lighter and with a year's experience behind him. A starter as a sophomore, the Solo, O., junior should be more effective.

MIKE HANKWITZ, another junior who played linebacker a year ago, has moved to the number two tight end slot. Hankwitz, from Scottville, played the position two springs ago and has made excellent progress in the new spot. Tom Nieman, a sophomore from Evanston, Ill., also could see some action at the position.

John Gabler, a junior from Royal Oak, finished last season as the starting flanker and has gained speed and agility with the loss of 20 pounds from his playing weight of last year.

Of unknown quality is Paul Staroba of Flint, who couldn't participate in freshman football last year for scholastic reasons, but who is eligible as a sophomore. Behind Staroba is Holland senior Dave Farabee.

Apply Now For Turkey Permit

LANSING -- Sportmen may start applying for 1,500 hunting permits covering Michigan's November 1-10 wild turkey season in the Mio and Baldwin areas, the Conservation Department announces.

Setting the stage for their applications is the Department's mailing of 1968 small game licenses which have reached most dealers in the state. By early September, these licenses should be available at all local dealers.

Eligible applicants, those residents and nonresidents at least 14 years old, may get in the running for free turkey permits by postmarking their entries before midnight, Sept. 23.

Their applications, limited to one per hunter and to only one of the two areas, are to be mailed to the Department's Lansing office.

IN THE OFFING are 500 permits for the Mio hunting area (No. 1) which takes in most of Oscoda and northern Ogemaw counties plus parts of Alcona, Iosco, and Montmorency counties.

The other choice is the Baldwin area (No. 2) for which 1,000 permits will be issued to hunt in parts of Newaygo, Ogemaw, and Mason counties.

As last year, the procedure for making permit applications is relatively simple. It works this way:

On the blank or back side of a five-cent U.S. Government postcard, the applicant prints the area of his choice (1 or 2) writes down his 1968 small game license number below that, and then signs his name in ink.

On the postage side, he pre-addresses the card to himself, typing or printing his name and address there.

Final step before mailing is to stuff the filled-out card in an envelope addressed to: Wild Turkey, Michigan Department of Conservation,
