HOW CUSTOMERS ARE LOST
 When a customer turns an article this way and that to get a better light on it, or even perhaps carries it, nearer the light, the storekeeper should realize that his lighting is not right; that he is making buying hard work and driving customers to a better lighted store.
 No store should have an illumination of less than 10 foot-candles, in carefully selected, properly spaced fixtures. Very many stores are using 5 foot-candles or even less—and wondering why business is not better.
 If you wish, we will inspect your equipment, measure your light, and make suitable recommendations—without charge.
