

Why Trade Winds Blow in Certain Directions

Trade winds are common to certain parts of the world, and are so called because they can be relied upon to blow for given periods in an absolutely given direction. The nearer the equator, the more direct are the rays of the sun. Consequently there is to be found the greatest heat, and the quickest rising of the heated air. To make up for this rise, cooler air is constantly rushing in from the colder belts to north and south, and no winds are set up. These currents do not, however meet, for the following reason: The earth being very much bigger round its equator or middle than at its poles or ends, it follows that the spin round the equator is much faster than at the poles. This extra fast spin, then, bends the currents of air as they rush in from north and south, and so it happens that while there is an absolutely windless belt in the very middle, north and south are two belts with absolutely regular currents of air.

Why Builders Like Wood

To determine the cost of heating homes constructed of various materials, a test has been made in Norway with 27 models built of different materials by measuring the amount of electricity required to keep each at a uniform temperature. Floors, ceilings, double windows and doors were alike in all the houses, the only variable feature being the construction of the walls. Each of the models was about 8½ feet square and 8 feet high. The most economical to heat was found to be a lumber-built house having the hollows of the walls filled with sawdust. It was stated, however, that the sawdust must dry to be an efficient nonconductor of heat, and before its use can become general, some means must be found to make it dry and damp-proof. It was found that hollow walls are better heat insulators than solid walls.

Why Spectacles Should Be Carefully Fitted

Poorly fitted spectacles sometimes lead to cancer, says Hygeia, popular health magazine published by the American Medical Association. Four cases of tumors developing where badly-fitted glasses have irritated the skin have been reported in New Haven, Conn., within recent years. The places where spectacles usually produce constant bruising of the skin are the bridge near the nose, the sides of the bridge near the inner angle of the eye, the temples and at the back of the ears. There is no indication that spectacles of the "pinch-on" type are any more likely to cause such rubbing than are those that have ear pieces, says Hygeia. In any event, the possibility of such irritations resulting disastrously should be borne in mind and ill-fitting glasses should be corrected.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

In the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland in Chancery. Robert Churches, Plaintiff vs. George A. Duggan, the unknown wife of James Vance, Margaret McLean Duggan, Lowell Goodman, Eleazar L. Goodman, Delia A. Goodman, the unknown wife of Samuel G. Hart and the unknown wife of David Hart, or the unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns of each and every of them, Defendants.

At a session of said Court held at the Court House in the City of Pontiac, County of Oakland, State of Michigan, on the 18th day of July A. D. 1925.

Present, Hon. GLENN C. GILLESPIE, Circuit Judge.

On reading and filing the Bill of Complaint duly filed in said cause, and the affidavit of Clinton McGee, from which it satisfactorily appears to the Court that the defendants above named, or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns are necessary and proper parties in the above entitled cause: and

It further appearing that after diligent search, inquiry and investigation it cannot be ascertained, and it is not known whether the persons named in said Bill of Complaint as defendants, or any of them, are living or dead, or where he, she or they may reside, or whether they have any title, interest, claim, lien or possible right has been by them or any of them assigned to any person or persons, and if dead whether he, she or they have personal representatives or heirs living, or where they or some or any of them may reside, or whether such title, interest, claim, lien or possible right has been disposed of by Will; and further, that the present whereabouts of such persons, their heirs-at-law, personal representatives, devisees, legatees and assigns, are unknown and the Post Office addresses of none of them can be ascertained, nor can it be ascertained whether any of them are minors or incompetents:

On motion of Pelton and McGee, attorneys for plaintiff:

IT IS ORDERED that the appearance of each and all of the foregoing defendants be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this Order and in case of their appearance, or the appearance of any of them, that they cause their answer to the Bill of Complaint to be filed, and a copy served upon the attorneys for plaintiff within fifteen days after service upon them, or their attorneys, of a copy of said Bill, and in default thereof that said Bill be taken as confessed by the said defendants who shall fail to comply with the requirements of this Order.

It is further ordered that the said plaintiff cause this Order to be published within forty days in The Farmington Enterprise, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said County, once in each week for six weeks in succession, or that plaintiff cause a copy of this Order to be personally served upon each of said defendants herein, at least twenty days before the time prescribed for his, her or their appearance.

GLENN C. GILLESPIE, Circuit Judge.

LUCK!

"Good luck will carry a man over a ditch, if he jump well; and will put a bit of bacon in the pot if he looks after his garden and pigs. Luck taps at least once in a life time at everybody's door, but if industry does not open it, away it goes."—Charles H. Spurgeon.

We see men and women every day who cause us to stop and say to ourselves:—"How lucky he is" or "How lucky she is." We look about us and see men and women of old age who are comfortably situated, they have their home, and enough of an income to "take the rest of life easy," and then we say to ourselves how lucky they are.

As a matter of fact it is not luck. The thing that most folks call luck is nothing more nor less than the result of earnestly, tediously, painfully worked out plans. People who are independent in old age are not those who have been lucky, but those who have been willing to sacrifice, those who have planned their work and then worked their plan, those who have saved systematically, and those who have put twice as much money into articles of permanent value or investments as into needless indulgence.

In GARDEN GROVE we offer to those who are willing to do with a little less of the "luxuries," a good sound permanent investment at a present saving, and an undoubtful future profit.

Everywhere you go you hear of the success of GARDEN GROVE. Some say we have been LUCKY. We don't call it that. The success of GARDEN GROVE has been the result of hard, earnest, persistent work. We have put the price of our property below the average, but we have also put GARDEN GROVE in a class with the best there is. We have been well paid for our efforts, and the people who have invested and those who will invest will be as much paid for theirs. We don't want all of the profits, we are passing an immediate profit on to the purchasers. Ask anybody who has bought here.

In a short time some people are going to say "I'M GLAD I DID" and others will say "I WISH I HAD." Which class are you going to be in? By saving a few dollars a month and investing in GARDEN GROVE, you will be helping yourself to that place where people will say about you: "Isn't he lucky?"

Let us show you today how easy it is to buy and build a home here. Ten Dollars will start you, and it will be a start you will never regret. Look over the homes we have already built here, then bring us your plans, we are sure that you will soon have that home which you have been wishing for.
