

Oriental Rugs
LUXURIOUS ELEGANT TIMELESS

Five Indian and Chinese Oriental rugs depict the romance of an ancient life style devoted to art and culture. Now through February 18, Tadross & Zahloute will offer a special showing of beautifully patterned Chinese and subtle Indian Oriental rugs, newly imported. Slowly and patiently handwoven, all are works of art clearly distinguished by their rich, exotic colors and flowing designs.

Our fine staff will be on hand to discuss the decorating and investment advantages offered by this exquisite art form. Services, of course, include cleaning, reweaving, repairing and purchasing of antique and semantique Oriental rugs.

Keeping Tips on fighting

CAMILLE MCCOY

Charlie Wilson, owner of The Sportsman in Birmingham, and Wendy Lynch, a store buyer, model clothes to fight the cold. He's wearing a northface shell jacket, goose-down vest and viyella shirt. She's warm in a shell bunting jacket and wool hand-knit sweater.

The correct underclothes can help keep you warm. Wendy Lynch tries floral thermal longjohns and "Acorn" slippers made of rag-wool with leather soles. Charlie Wilson wears Patagonia polypropylene underwear and sheepskin mules.
