Program continues

Displaced homemakers are former homemakers who, through divorce, separation, widowhood, disability of spouse, or other crises, have lost their source of economic support. After spending a substantial number of years in the home earing for family members, displaced homemakers find returning to the job market a difficult transition.

Through a grant from the Michlgan Department of Labor, Office of Women and Work, Jewish Vocational Service and Community Workshop, a non-sectarian agency, announces the continuation of a Displaced Homemaker Program for individuals from Wayne and Oakland counties. This special program offers employ-ability skills, vocational counseling and job placement services. Women who qualify as displaced homemakers are invited to apply to Jewish Vocational Eligibility is based on marital and employment status. There are no in-come guidelines.
