

Stacy Wenson's color-applied dress from Studio Dance Wear is evidence of the influence that art, in particular Mondrian, has had on this season's new designs.

Darlene Doetsch, 1984's Mrs. Michigan, believes that everyone deserves a jumpsuit. Her Norma Kamali design, $92, is from Lord & Taylor. Big glasses, flat shoes, and wrap belt are important accessories.

The great shorts will cause their own heat wave. Elaine Keller wears hers with a T-shirt and wrapped waist. Shorts, $33, T-shirt, $36, are from Roz and Sherm. Try the hip wrap with skirts and dresses.

Elaine Minkin (right) is an exercise instructor at Mira Linder's Spa in the City. Her two-piece jacket and pant sweats in bright oranges and Oxford gray. Her daughters are Nicole, who chooses pant and scoop neck top, and Kim, who opts for dark gray tunic top and skinny pants. Betty Appel, all between $50 and $90.

A talented lady who specializes in leather, Caprice Chapman's suedes are go-anywhere. Her long blouson jacket, $350, skinny pants, $220, were an instant hit with gallery visitors at the Detroit Institute of Arts.
