

Mary Edna MacDonald and Timothy Andrew McCaughey were married by the Rev. David Antonson in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis S. MacDonald of Grosse Pointe Farms, and he is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard McCaughey of Farmington Hills.

The bride's ivory colored gown was schiffli embroidered with English net covering the bodice and a scalloped collar extended to a pointed, ed chapel train. Her Juliet cap was made of Alencon lace from her grandmother's wedding dress.

Jean Sinclair served as her sister's matron of honor with bridesmaids Nancy Russell, Christine McCaughey, Mary Power and Martha McCaughey. All wore ivory colored basiste blouses with maroon taffeta skirts while they carried bouquets of maroon and pink roses and carnations.

Peter McCaughey served as his brother's best man with ushers Drew Homoves, Thomas Routsong, Christopher Harrington and Henry Huth.

The couple received guests in Grosse Pointe Yacht Club before leaving on a trip to Jamaica. They are now at home in St. Clair Shores.

2tapped by honor society

Farmington Hills residents Jean Jambas and Michael LaFave have been selected for membership in Kappa Gamma Pi, the national Catholic honor society.

The two are among 35 graduating seniors at Madonna College who were selected by faculty vote, based on the students' leadership in extra-curricular activities both on and off campus, and their willingness to accept responsibilities in church, civic and social concerns.

Elise Young, tailor, had a client who wanted a pick pocket proof pocket. Invited, she placed a Want Ad offering a fee for the best design. She received an answer from a retired clerk, who refused the fee and supplied her with a design that's in the hands of a patent attorney.
