With the Plymouth City Commission's approval to sell city-qwaed land for the project, attorney Joan Thomas and his associates are proceeding the control of the project, attorney Joan Thomas and his associates are proceeding the control of the city.

The organizing group plans on purchasing the vacant strip of property next to the Department of Public Works and build a two-story building that will house the playing field-and be available for other activities.

According to plans, the building will be a two-story affair and will have much the same appearance in helpid as the Cultural Center that was built in the early 70s.

The move to generate more interest in the game in this area is part of a wide plan in lower Michigan the day't before port and whose gripped Detroit in the day't before port and whose gripped Detroit in the day't before port and whose gripped Detroit in the day't before port and the event of indoor seccer in and around Detroit was Farmington Hills, which has a soccer arean there on 10 Mile Road close to the Holiday Inn.

When soccer was at its peak in Detroit in earlier years, the games at Belle late and Northwestern Field were well attended.

It was so popula the special writers were emports page of the daily appears covered with reports of the games and action pictures of the games and action pictures of the games and action pictures of the games indigibles.

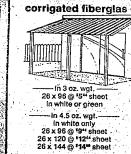

It was so popula termed as soccer league for their teams. Many of the start from England and Scotland were induced to come over here and the soccer league attracted as much attention then as bookey and basketbail do now.

The revival of the game began several years ago when soccer became popular among the youth in recreational leagues and then was added to the school programs.
