

Strike Threatens Liquor Stock

Liquor buyers may find bars and stores running out of their favorite brands soon, and persons drying up entirely in a couple of weeks.

Spot checks of several Oberlin places showed that big-selling brands of whiskey were running low. Gin and beer haven't been affected yet. The cause is a strike by 62 employees of a State Liquor Control Commission warehouse in Lincoln Park, one of three major distribution points in the state.

THE LINCOLN PARK facility serves 27 state-owned wholesale-retail outlets, which turn serve some 2,000 retail accounts. The Lincoln Park center serves seven counties--Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, St. Clair, Washtenaw, Monroe and Lapeere.

The striking employees are members of Local 1342 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO. Their picket line is being honored by Teamster-member truck drivers, who won't deliver to the 27 wholesale-retail outlets.

The 27 outlets are still serving bars, hotels, clubs and liquor stores. But customers said the Lincoln outlet is beginning to cut down on the size of deliveries of popular brands.

The state outlets have had no deliveries from the Lincoln Park center since before Tuesday, when Teamsters began honoring the picket line.
