

The Harold Johnson family, with their home on wheels following closely behind, traveled well over 5,000 miles on their summer sojourn. Heading southward, the first stop was Fort Leonard Wood, where Isabel's brother is stationed with the Army. From there they followed the Santa Fe Trail through the majority of the West's historic places.

Dodge City, Kan., and Boot Hill were musts for the boys to see. In Pueblo and Colorado Springs, Colo., they found the mining districts of great interest. On to Pike's Peak and north to Denver, where they visited Dinosaur National Park. In the northwest corner of Colorado, they saw persons actually digging for dinosaur remains at Cliffside Quarry, Yellowstone Park, where they spent three days, and Mount Rushmore were other spots of interest they saw.

IT'S GOOD to be able to report that Russ Ganton, who was so seriously injured in a tractor accident, is now at home. Though he is still in some pain, he is able to be up and around the house and outside on wheels. Both Russ and his wife, Lettie, have asked me to express for them, their sincere appreciation to all those who sent cards, notes and flowers during his hospital stay and also to all the thoughtful people who took time out from their own busy lives to help out in so many ways.

Ginny Anickak hopes that the owner of a yellow, bulky-knit cardigan which was left at her home early in the summer the day of the pool-side brunch will claim same.

THE SUNDAY Night Couples Bowling League will get under way on Sept. 29 at Bel-Aire Lanes. There will be a meeting at the lanes at 8 p.m. on that date and it is urgent that everyone who plans to bowl attend. Bowling will be on an every-other-Sunday schedule and will begin at 9 p.m. There are some openings for regular bowlers and a need for subs. Anyone wishing more details may secure them by calling Norma Riebe at 476-2177 or Carol Cutter at 476-1563.

HARRY E. WILLIAMS of 23025 Warner, Farmington, has been appointed division director of the system and stations division of the general engineering department of Detroit Edison. A graduate of the University of Detroit, Williams had served as system engineer of the system and stations division since 1965.

Trucker Is Fifth Fatality

Farmington Township's fifth traffic fatality of the year was recorded Sept. 10 when a 46-year-old trucker from Belding lost his life on I-695 near Inkster Rd.

Michigan State Police, who handled accident details, theorized that Keith H. Tapley had fallen asleep at the wheel of his double-lantern truck moments prior to the crash. Tapley was westbound on I-695 at 4:30 a.m. when he smashed into the rear of another westbound truck, a steel hauler being driven by William Hooper, 56, of Inkster.

Now that September is here, fall activities are beginning to start. The people in Canterbury are sure to be a busy lot. The State Fair was just held, and one of our residents was asked to model at the fair. She is Christine McDermott, 10 years old, of Foxgrove Rd. Christine won the title of Miss Sugar and Spice at the Wards store in Southfield. She was a back-to-school outfit consisting of a sweater, jumper, and beret, and a charm course at Wards. She was also presented with a key to the City of Southfield. Congratulations!

Another fall activity is the Canterbury Mixed Couples Bowling League. It began Sunday, Sept. 8, in Country Lanes. Anyone interested in being a substitute call Barb Moehlmann, 628-1201.

Officers for the newly formed league are President, Barb Moehlmann, 1st Vice-President, Don Lumders, Second Vice-President, Harry Toomajian, Secretary, Wanda Wrightman, and Co-Treasurers, Jim and Nancy Turnock.

Congratulations to Gail and Margaret Nau, of Foxgrove Rd., on the birth of their daughter Anne Margaret, who was born on Aug. 10. She weighed six pounds nine ounces, and was welcomed home by a sister, Karen, and a brother, David. Happy Birthday to Carl Applebaum, whose fifth birthday was Aug. 30. It was celebrated with a pizza party for a few little friends from the neighborhood.

Happy Birthday also to Robert and Jeffrey O'Boyle, who were six years old on Aug. 28. They had 10 boys to help them celebrate. On hand also was their cousin, Robert Schega, and his new bride, Carole, who are visiting the O'Boyles for a while. Mr. Schega was wounded while a helicopter pilot in Vietnam.

A newcomer to the Fishman home was welcomed this past week. Edie has a new York-shire Terrier puppy, called Tammy tell me true. She's hoping the whole family will love it, especially Bobby.
