

Beauty editors here for fashion makeovers

This fall, Mademoiselle On Location hits the road for its 15th season of high-style fashion and beauty makeovers in stores across the country.

Two Mademoiselle editors, a hairstylist and a makeup artist will direct the event at 1 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 23, in Hudson's 12 Oaks Mall, Novi.

A photographer will be taking before-and-after pictures of makeover volunteers. The volunteers throughout the nation who show the most dramatic changes could be featured in the February issue of Mademoiselle.

Mademoiselle editors Beverly Wilson and Alicia Ernst will conduct a formal fashion show using models to demonstrate the newest fall looks of polished work styles, carefree weekend wear, elegant evening wear, and show their audience how to accessorize each look. The editors also will select audience volunteers to model the styles and show them ways to update their wardrobes.

The makeup artist will perform beauty makeovers on audience volunteers and discuss new makeup techniques and cosmetic color trends for fall. The hairstylist will cut and style audience volunteers' hair and preview the season's best hairstyles.

The Mademoiselle team will also answer fashion and beauty questions from the audience.
