TO GIVE YOU THE FINEST IN VAN CONVERSIONS...COME SEE US AT...

Universal Motor Coach manufactures the very finest quality van conversions available today. And to offer the finest, Universal is unique in the industry. Unlike other van conversion manufacturers, Universal is aligned exclusively with one automotive company. The manufacturer singled out by Universal for its total commitment to quality is Ford Motor Company.

Every Universal van conversion is built on a proven and highly popular Ford light truck chassis. It is sold exclusively by Ford dealers and backed by the dependable service of the Ford dealer network. Through specialization in Ford line products, Universal brings you the benefits of greater efficiencies, economies and expertise. Universal specifies only the finest materials for its van conversions. Every component is carefully chosen for appearance, durability and minimum required maintenance. Production methods are revolutionary in the industry.

From the ground up — from end to end — Universal conversions are the products of advanced automotive design, construction and color coordination combined with an uncompromising dedication to quality. That's a Better Idea!
