

Teens Have Style Show

Sixty young seamstresses 10-18 years of age will participate in a Singer World Style-Maker contest in the Singer store in the Livonia Mall at 7 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 13.

The girls will model outfit they have made. Three age groups are included in the competition: teen, deb, sub-deb and senior miss.

The local winners will then enter regional and state contests and a world contest is planned later in the year in London.

Mercy Has College Work For Adults

Mercy College of Detroit has expanded the adult evening program for the fall semester.

Adults who are interested in continuing their education on the college level for the purpose of a college degree, or simply for intellectual stimulation and personal satisfaction will be able to choose from more than 30 courses.

The courses represent a variety of fields including liberal arts, business, administration and law enforcement.

Under the new admissions policy for the adult evening program, only a high school diploma or the equivalent is a prerequisite for enrollment. It is felt that limiting the prerequisites for this program will greatly streamline the admissions procedure.

Admission and registration for the program will be accepted between 6 and 8 p.m. on Sept. 2, 3, 8, 9 and 14 in the Student Center lobby. Classes begin Sept. 8 and run through Dec. 18. Convenient lighted parking is available on the campus.

An adult evening program brochure may be obtained from the admissions office, Mercy College of Detroit, 3200 West Outer Drive, Detroit, Michigan, 48219; telephone 531-7820, ext. 286.

4-H Awards Give Incentive

More than 295,000 incentive awards for 4-H boys and girls are provided annually by private business, industry and foundations through the National Service Committee of Chicago.

Welcome, Julie
