

More Tickets Mean Fewer Accidents -- Mies

Mr. Hanks' letter to the editor in the July 29 issue was quite a surprise to me. First of all, he never advocated a traffic ticket quota. This is probably why Mr. Hanks gets the idea of a 1,000 ticket "quota." I was simply citing figures.

Statistics dramatically indicate that accident volumes bear a direct proportion or ratio to enforcement. As the number of tickets increases, so does the number of accidents.
