

cable connection

The Southwestern Oakland Cable Commission as a member of the National Federation of Local Cable Promoters is hosting a regional conference entitled, "Promoting the Use of Cable." The host location is the Holiday Inn of Farmington Hills.

Many facets of the Telecommunications industry will bring together community (resident) producers, municipal planners, cable programmers, educators and business entrepreneurs. The itinerary will include topical workshops, keynote speakers, roundtable discussions, cable programming displays and vendor booths.

The conference will be April 19, 20 and 21. The fee is $60 and includes all meals on Friday and lunch on Saturday. To register, call the SWOCC office before April 1 at 474-1017.

She's got wheels

Denise Fadool, an Indiana University student from Farmington Hills, won the use of this Dodge Daytona Turbo during spring break March 9-18. Fadool won in a drawing sponsored by Indiana University business students. Larry Polizzotto, left, a graduate student, came up with the contest theme as part of his team's entry in the competition sponsored by the Chrysler Corp. Scholarships will be awarded to the three student groups that do the best job of promoting the car at their schools during the spring semester.

Temple offers 2 career seminars

The School for Human Relations at the Birmingham Temple will present two workshops on professional development during March.

At the "Communicating for Results" workshop, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 21, participants will learn how to be more persuasive through an understanding of human nature, how to present ideas clearly and effectively, and how to analyze an audience to achieve a desired outcome.

Presenters will be Alan Perlman, Ph.D., a speechwriter at General Motors and a visiting professor in the School of Business at Wayne State University, and Judith Perlman, MSW, a psychotherapist in private practice in Birmingham.

"Marketing Yourself for Success," which will be at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 28, will be conducted by Gloria Holtzman, a certified, licensed employment counselor and the owner of Gem Entertainment and Promotions.

Workshop topics include: success skills for a career change, improving your image, effective interviewing and getting the job, and office politics and group dynamics.

Both workshops will be at the Birmingham Temple, 28811 W. 12 Mile Road, Farmington Hills. The fee for each is $5. For more information or to register, call Helen Forman at 477-1410.
