The parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Day. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Carroll I. Mulligan.

Talking Books MACLD Topic

Talking books and other learning aids will be discussed at a meeting of the Michigan Association for Children with Learning Disabilities at 8 p.m. Friday, Sept. 20, at Madonna College, Livonia.

The speaker will be Mrs. Barbara Gray, of the library for the blind and physically handicapped. She will tell how recorded books and tape equipment can be used to help children with reading difficulties.

The MACLD is an organization of parents whose youngsters have special social and academic problems in learning, as well as others interested in such children.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight peau de soie gown with a train of chantilly lace in the same candlelight tone. Her veil was attached to a headpiece of chantilly lace, and she carried gardenias and stephanotis over her mother's prayer book.

Marilyn Day, sister of the bride, served as her maid of honor. Other attendants were Loretta Vignatelli, Donna Vignatelli, and Sandra Tichenor. The bride's cousin, Anne Marie Day, was the flower girl.

LARRY SPANGLER was the best man. Groomsmen were Ronald Corey, David Day, and John Stumpf. Paul Day, brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Following the reception at the Botsford Inn, the couple left for a week's honeymoon in western Michigan.

The bride was graduated from Wayne State University and the bridegroom is working toward his master's degree at W.S.U. The couple will reside in Westland.

St. Paul's Church Scene Of Williams-Rice Vows

Laura Jane Rice became the bride of Michael George Williams in a double-ring ceremony at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Livonia, on Aug. 24.

The bride was given in marriage by her father in the ceremony officiated by the Rev. William Whiteledge.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Al Rice of Redford Township and Mr. and Mrs. George Williams of Drayton Plains.

THE BRIDE selected a modified A-line gown of ivory silk organza with a short, full train. The short sleeves and neckline were edged with white alencon lace, re-embroidered with chalk-white beading. This was repeated on the bodice and scattered to the hem of the gown. Her short ivory veil cascaded from a cap of matching lace and chalk beads.

Leslie Ann Rice, sister of the bride, served as her maid of honor. She wore an empire yellow-ochron gown with tiny white dots. Yellow ribbon multi-looped bows, with daisy-trimmed streamers, served as the headpiece.

BRIDESMAIDS Cynthia Woodward of Redford Township, Nadine Bock of Redford Township, and Karen Waterston of Lansing, wore dresses identical to those of the honor attendant. John Peterson served as best man. Steve Zemke, Timothy Rice, George S. Harris, and Harry Boyce were ushers.

Mrs. Rice selected a champagne and wool worsted dress with coffee accessories accented by chartreuse tymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Williams wore a mint green ensemble with matching accessories and cream tymbidium orchids.
