

Ad maker creates a bit of Cajun in our town

"This location here looks like a nice southern setting, just like Louisiana," said Angela Turley, an independent producer who picked the facade of the Heeneey Sundquist Funeral Home, on Farmington Road, just north of Grand River Avenue, as the location for filming a 30 second commercial.

A full day's work for a Detroit based filming crew, the commercial, produced for New Orleans Buick Dealers will be viewed in New Orleans, La. Turley said she can always find versatile settings for shooting commercials here in Farmington. Sundquist's stately, southern-looking facade is just one of them. The commercial will also be edited in Farmington at the Grace-Wilde Co.

Actor Bob Fox, 14, takes a break during the daylong filming of an advertisement for the New Orleans area. He played the part of a newspaper delivery boy.

RANDY BORST/staff photographer

Orleans action

That fuss over at Heeneey-Sundquist last week at the intersection of Grand River and Farmington Road was a bit of Hollywood-type action come to town in the form of a Buick Motor Division commercial being made for the New Orleans area. At top, the camera crew prepares the set and takes light readings, while the actors prepare for the next scene. Meanwhile, Barry Meier (left), the camera operator, gives some instructions to the crew.

INSIDE ANGLES

Know someone doing something notable? Let us know. Write: Inside Angles, Farmington Observer, 33203 Grand River, Farmington 48024.

TERRI HAMLIN, daughter of Don and Joanne Hamlin of Farmington Hills and a 1982 graduate of North Farmington High School, has been named to the dean's list at Michigan State University. This makes her fifth straight semester on the dean's list since entering Michigan State in 1984. She was also a magna cum laude 1983 graduate of Oakland Community College.

IORA HAGLUND of Farmington was recently inducted into the newly formed Nursing Honor Society at Madonna College in recognition of scholastic achievement, leadership, creative support of professional nursing standards and commitment to scholarly nursing.

MARK PLATKO, Deborah Juntunen, Kristine Furman and Kerrie Pridemore of the Farmington area were named to the dean's list at Northern Michigan University.

AIRMAN JACK NACCASHIAN, a 1981 graduate of Harrison High School, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force fabrication and parachute specialist course at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill. He is scheduled to serve with the 366th Equipment Maintenance Squadron at Mountain Home Air Force Base, Idaho.

RICHARD BARTLETT, Kathleen Chambers, Mark Harrard and Gabriel Pamboukdjian of the Farmington area have been named to the dean's honor roll for the spring day term at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

THERESA BARANYAI, Ronald Bonatz, Kenneth Davis, Ellen Hedfield, Philip Holcomb, Brian Lewis, Todd Moore, Barry Robbins, Bruce Rose and Eileen Whittemore of the Farmington area were awarded degrees at spring commencement at Michigan Technological University.

MARCIA THOMPSON of Farmington Hills was named to the dean's list at Saginaw Valley State College.

DAVID DIDONATO and Sameer Dua of Farmington Hills attended the United States Space Camp at The Alabama Space and Rocket Center in Huntsville. Designed to provide youngsters with valuable space and science knowledge, the week-long camp enables youngsters to participate in simulated space activities and gain first-hand knowledge about space technology and the principles of rocketry. Space Camp is operated by the Space and Rocket Center, a non-profit government agency which operates the NASA visitor center and space museum.

CORC BEYLUNI, Daniel Glenn-Panter, Burwell, Mary Lynn Hastings, Andrew Howell, YoungHo Lee, Sheri Penner, Labeli Plator, Linda Reese, Carol Ann Wilson and Sandra Beth Habermehl, from the Farmington area, graduated from Eastern Michigan University.

ELIZABETH BOSSE, Ronald Brooker, Julia Church, John Currie, Marie Currie, Janice Cutting, Pamela Fisher, David Kenney, James Kordel, Mary Kozicki, John Lapham, Lorree Miller, Kent Nicol and Dianne Rogers, from the Farmington area, have been named to the dean's list at the University of Detroit.

ANGELA DEMARTINI McLOUGH-LIN, Caren Cooper, Saad Kemennu and Robert Shatzman, from the Farmington area, received doctor of medicine degrees at Wayne State University School of Medicine.

MICHAEL NUGENT, son of Mrs. James Nugent of Farmington, was the recipient of the Grace Nichols Prize at Hillsdale College. This award is presented for outstanding achievement by Spanish students in honor of Dr. Grace Nichols, Professor Emeritus of Spanish.

SARA JO CLINE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cline and Kristen Johnson Witte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Witte of Farmington Hills, have been named Albion Fellows at Albion College. The distinctive honor is earned by students with semester grade point average of 3.7 or higher.

JEAN MUSSELMAN of Farmington Hills was one of 105 students in the class of 1983 Indiana University School of Dentistry receiving degrees. She earned awards from the American Association of Orthodontics, the American Academy of Oral Pathology and Alpha Omega honorary society and was also elected to Omicron Kappa Upsilon.

JOSEPH (ANDY) DITZHAYZ, son of Joseph and Helen Ditzhayz of Farmington Hills and a graduate of Detroit Country Day School, recently graduated with honors from the U.S. Army Intelligence Center and School's Special Agent, Counterintelligence and Terrorism Counteraction courses. He went to Michigan State University (undergraduate), Cornell, Wayne State, Texas Christian and Northeastern graduate schools. Ditzhayz was a law enforcement official in local, state and federal government and an adjunct professor at the University of Maine. He left his position as a federal police section chief in 1979 joining the Army's intelligence program. Completing initial intelligence training, he attended the Army's Chemical School at Fort McClellan where he graduated with honors in nuclear, biological and chemical warfare. He became a subject matter expert on ATP48, the NATO NBC Warning and Reporting system and attended the Nuclear and Chemical Target Analysis course, Fort Sill, Okla. He returned as the primary instructor in NCTA for the Chemical School, teaching Officer Basic, Advanced, Foreign and Advanced Non-commissioned Officers. Andy was reassigned to counterintelligence in 1984 and worked on the HUMINT subsystem of the Army's new All Source Analysis computer system recognizing his computer and operations research skills.

ESCALADA TRIUMPH VICTORY

Introducing the Escada

fall and holiday collection. Today.

Thursday, July 11, in the Northland Oval

Room. Tomorrow:

Friday, July 12, in the

Eastland Oval Room

Introducing modeling

from 11 to 4