New kid on block stuns fellow racers

"I just started to put the pressure on them. I started burting about the three mile mark, and at one point someone (Caruso) was only about 15 or 20 one point someon yards behind me.

"That's when I started moving again," he said. Predmore, who lives in Bioomfield Hills and works at the GM Tech Center as a mechanical engi-neer, raced mainly 100's and 5k's back east. Origi-nally from Rochester, N.Y., he was a member of the Cornell track team.

Predmore says he doesn't really enjoy marathon racing, although he has competed in two of them at Boston. "I consider myself mostly a 5k and 10k runner," he said.

And he showed why on Sunday. He took the lead abortly into the run and never trailed, although it did get close hallway through the race. Caraxo, a member of the Livonia-based Racquets Unlimited Racing Team, nearly caught Predmore after working his way through the field because of a rook shart. a poor start.

"I thought I could catch him. But, the problem was, while I had to work my way up to the front, he was just cruising along. I had to work to get up there and by the time I reached him I couldn't pass him.

"I tried, but I couldn't," said Caruso, who finished first in his age group (30-39) but second overall with a time of 31.08.8." I felt pretty good out there. But Twe been running all summer and not really racing. I like to peak in the fall."

ades of Ann Arbor finished fourth and fifth, respec-tively, with times of 32:01.8 and 32:20.2.

Garden City's David Homann won the 19-under division and took sixth overall with a fine time of 32.39.4. A 1985 graduate of Garden City High School, Homann will attend the University of Tennessee this fall.

ELLA WILLIS, the veteran racer from Detroit, was the women's overall winner at 35:03.6. Joyce Rankin of Colrado Springer, Colo., won the 30-39 women's division and was second to Willis in Sol.66. The Unit-place women's flatbser was Ka-thy Grover of Bioomfield Hills (37:31.9) and Cludy Barber of Lincoln Park (39:07.5).

Willis, who has competed in a dozen marathons and is a past winner of the West Bloomfield Half-Marathon, was 22nd overall. "I was expecting to come in under 36 minutes," she said. "I think I was a little tired.

"I just didn't have any competition," said Willis. "It was a good tune-up for me because I'm running next week in the Governor's Cup race at the State Fair."

Race director Mike Keeler, who works for the Southfield Corp., said 267 people registered for the race.

"Overall, we had a lot of preparation for the race and I think everything went well," he said "We raised a lot of money for MDA and I think we'll see even beiter results next years because of all the hard work put into the race this year.
