O&E to publish charity yule cards

YES, VIRGINIA — and anyone else who has been wondering — the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers will again publish holiday greeting cards of non-profit and non-political organizations.

The annual special promotion will appear in all 12 O&E Suburban Life sections on Thursday, Oct. 24.

Non-profit and non-political organizations are invited to submit to the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers by Thursday, Oct. 17, five copies of each card they will be selling. The newspaper reserves the right to select one sample for publication if more than one style of card is submitted.

EVERY EFFORT will be made to publish all cards received by Oct. 17. Cards received later will be published throughout the holiday season as space permits.

Information pertaining to ordering the cards will appear with photographs of the cards to aid readers in making a selection.

As in the past, organizations are requested to include such information as:

- Price per box and number of cards per box
- Price for larger quantities
- Price for imprinted and deadline for imprinted
- Where cards can be bought
- Telephone number, if more information is needed.

In addition to publishing the cards, the O&E will continue another tradition, that of having display books of charity cards for public viewing at five of our offices: Birmingham, 1225 Bowers; Rochester, 410 Main; Farmington, 33102 Grand River; Livonia, 36261 Schoolcraft; and Plymouth, 489 S. Main.

The display books will be available beginning Monday, Oct. 28.

The holiday greeting card feature was begun by the Observer & Eccentric several years ago as a public service on behalf of the many area charitable organizations that use the sale of holiday cards as a means of fund raising and for residents who want to help them by buying the cards.

begin at 7 p.m. Thursday; at 9 a.m. and noon Friday; and 9 a.m. Saturday in First Presbyterian Church of Farmington's barn, adjacent to the church at 26105 Farmington Road. Registration is necessary by calling Ruth McKinnon, 651-4911, or Maggi Doll, 626-7300. Fee of $15 includes all materials necessary.
