

Carrier of the Year

Chuck Voss was named the Farmington Observer's Carrier of the Year for 1985. He was honored during the Observer & Eccentric Newspaper's 15th-annual Carrier of the Year night Oct. 22 in Livonia. Flanking Chuck at right are O&E Circulation Director Fred Wright (left) and Farmington Observer Area Circulation Manager Kenneth Klein. Honorees had to be former carriers of the month. They were chosen on the basis of length of service, amount of collections, promptness in settling account, number of customer complaints and organization of route book.

Giving blood — It's made easy

American Red Cross bloodmobiles will visit the Farmington area three times during November.

Visits will be:

• Saturday, Nov. 2, St. Gerald's Catholic Church Parish Hall, 21300 Farmington, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Call Vince Scario, 353-6016.

• Monday, Nov. 4, Orchard United Methodist Church, 30450 Farmington, 2:30-8:30 p.m. Call Marcelite Robinson, 636-3620.

• Saturday, Nov. 9, Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church, 33615 Powers, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Call Mary Zwers, 478-6032.

Blood generally can be donated by anyone between the ages of 17 and 70 who weighs at least 110 pounds and is in good health.

In order to provide the needed blood and blood components for hospital patients in southeast Michigan, the Red Cross must collect and process 1,000 pints of blood daily.

Donating blood is safe, simple and risk free. There is absolutely no risk to the donor of contracting any infectious disease. A new, sterile needle is used for each donor and then that needle is discarded, Red Cross officials say.
