

Nary A Senior On Harrison Squad

New Team's Chances Rest With Sophs

It's welcome to Farmington Harrison High School to the "Overland sports scene." Harrison is the newest of the area's high schools and its fine new facilities on 12 Mile Rd. were barely finished in time for this week's school opening. But there'll be no athletic plant for the footballers this fall. They have been working at

That goes for coach John Herrington, too. Herrington has been the assistant for eight years at North Farmington, where he has learned how it is to be part of a winner. Originally, Harrison was to get all students in 10 and 11th grades from Farmington and North Farmington and many of the players will truly feel "at home" for those games.

With their absence, it'll mean that Harrison will be predominately a sophomore team and there's even one freshman, Paul Bay, a defensive end, who has won a spot on the roster after two weeks of training. Most of the sophomores know each other: They played together at East Junior High last fall.

"They could help us," says Herrington. Rick Hughes, a JV quarterback under Herrington at North Farmington last year, shapes up as one of the key members of the new Harrison squad. "He does lots of things...kicks off, boots extra points, plays quarterback on defense...passes, runs," says Herrington. "I sure hope he doesn't hurt himself." Dave Manos, a junior transfer from Farmington, could emerge as the top running back. He played for a private school in Indiana last year. Barry Smeltzer and Greg Clark are being counted upon to handle the tackles. Clark never played football before. He's from Nebraska, but Herrington sees a bright future for him. He weighs 245 pounds. TOM YOUNG, an end from the Farmington reserves, is another leading candidate for regular work.

Harrison will have its work cut out, schedule-wise. After opening with the Port Huron JV's, the rest of the games will be against varsity opponents. Harrison will also be shooting for a title in its freshman year of competition, playing against Walled Lake Western, Livonia Churchill and Waterford. Farmington is a newly formed circuit which will add Plymouth's new high school next fall.

Vets Scarce, Glenn Needs Luck

John Glenn a major threat for the Northwest Suburban football title this fall. Coach Bob Lusk doesn't think so. "It's not that he's a pessimist or follows the time-worn code of many coaches and won't say anything encouraging about his team. When Lusk has had power, he's been the first to admit it. But this year he's short on returns. "We lost just about everybody," says the one-time professional football player. "Just look at what we must build around. We have two starters back. "Fortunately, one is Jess Senn, who'll be at quarterback for the third straight year. "The other is Darryl Demeray, a defensive halfback, who has alternated at quarterback. We are moving Daryl over to tailback and think that he can give us some good running to go along with Senn's passing."

THERE ARE three others on the team who have enjoyed part-time service in the past. One is end Jim Chatham, a second-year player. The third, Martin Banks at tackle. Mike Tromboli, a linebacker with some experience, is going to be used as slotback as Lusk tries to borrow an offensive tactic from the University of Michigan.

Center Roy Beadle and Dave Barrows at guard are two others who'll see regular service. "I should think that we'll finish in the middle of the pack in the league," says Lusk.

But one never knows. "But I can't see us in there with Franklin, Thurston, and North Farmington as major challengers for the league crown."

But one never knows.

Livonia ITM Nipped In State Tourney

They actually come out of Detroit, but the hearts of Livonia rode with ITM in the state American Baseball Congress tournament at Battle Creek last week. ITM had played in the Greater Livonia Class A league all season and beat out Redford in the playoffs for the loop crown. Then ITM added a few Redford players for the district tournament, and won that to gain a trip to Battle Creek where ITM gained the final nudge to Kalamazoo, 5-4. The victory qualified Kalamazoo, now 30-2 for the season, for the Stan Musial World Series which opens at Battle Creek this Friday. Actually it was Kalamazoo which ruined ITM's hopes since the Kazoo team accounted for both the defeats ITM suffered in the tournament.
