

Parilo wins county crown

No one expected Hazel Park to finish any lower than first in the Oakland County Wrestling Championships the past weekend, and the Vikings didn't disappoint.

For the fifth straight year, Hazel Park won the county title, piling up 140 points. The race was for second place between Milford, Lake Orion and Rochester. Milford won the race with 163½ points, followed by Lake Orion (161) and Rochester (159½).

The Rochester finish was among the best in the school's history, and was one of the highlights for Observer & Eccentric area teams. Also highlight the tourney was the effort of four area individual champions — Chris McDaniell and Dominic Macreano from Brother Rice, Ned Lebo from Cranbrook and Dan Parillo from Farmington.

ROCHESTER. The defending Metro Suburban Activities Association champ, turned in a performance that had coach Max Hasse beaming. The Falcons wrestled Friday at Farmington High, and were in first place at that site after the first day of competition.

"That's about as high as we've ever placed," Hasse said of the fourth-place finish. "It was a super effort and I'm extremely pleased. It took a great team effort. We have underclassmen wrestling at our first six weights, and they all did a great job. I mean, what can I say.

"One of these days," he added, "We keep getting better and tougher."

Individually, Parillo became the first Farmington wrestler this decade to make the finals, much less win it. He won the 198-pound title with a 7-4 decision in the championship match over Pontiac Catholic's Scott Trzcinski.

McDaniell won the 112-pound title with a 7-0 decision over Southfield-Lathrup's Sol Gogan, while Macreano defeated Larry McDonald of Lake Orion, 17-5, for the 185-pound championship.

Lebo was crowned champion in the 138-pound class after a 10-0 win in the finals over Orchard Lake St. Mary's Charlie Maran.

WALLED LAKE. Western 98-pounder Don Zehnder won the most falls trophy by pinning six rivals. Tyrone Logan (Pontiac Northern) and Jack Hughes (Milford) were named as the tournament's most outstanding wrestlers.

Other area wrestlers who placed in the top four were Troy's Joe Gi (2nd at 145), Rochester's Rod McDonald (4th at 145), Rochester's Kurt Smith (4th at 105), Rochester's Jason Horowitz (2nd at 112), Lathrup's Jason Horowitz (2nd at 112), Andover's Dave Schrott (5th at 119), West Bloomfield's Jeff Nelden (4th at 119), Rochester's Alan Grana (3rd at 132), North Farmington's

Paul Cook (4th at 138), Avondale's Rob Campbell (2nd at 145), Rochester Adams' Jason LaLonde (4th at 187) and Brother Rice's Kurt Kazay (3rd at heavyweight).

Garden City captures its own tournament

By Brad Emans
staff writer

Garden City's wrestling team bought home an early Christmas present Saturday, winning its own invitational tournament.

The Cougars, who succeeded Gibraltar as meet champion, captured the 14-team field by scoring 130 points, edging second place Melvindale by three points. (See statistical summary.)

"Going in I figured us fourth or fifth place," said Garden City first-year coach Phil Freeman. "But when we got up by 20 points after the second round, we figured it was a possibility."

"We had some kids that wrestled a great day. We've coming along and we've taken some giant steps. It's a young, hard-working group. I think we'll surprise some people at the end of the year in the league meet and districts."

Garden City took only one first, but scored points in 10 of 13 weight classes.

THE GIESE BROTHERS figured prominently in the win.

Pat won the 185-pound championship final with a 9-4 decision over Dearborn Fordson's John Vancula. Brother Don, the last wrestler on the mat for the day, clinched the meet for GC by pinning his opponent in the 198-pound class.

Two other wrestlers were pleasant surprises for GC.

Jeff Stop finished third at 145 and Dave Ferracielo, filling in for the injured Roger Osler (bad back), took sixth at 119.

Those two kids really gave us a lift," said Freeman. "And of course Don Giese's match was a big one."

Stop, Giese and Mike Palazzola (105) each finished third for the Cougars. Teammate Tim Howell (167) was fourth.

Livonia Churchill, seventh in the team standings, boasted the meet's outstanding wrestler, 119-pound Salem Yaffal. The Bentley High transfer pinned two opponents and decisioned two others, including state Class B qualifier Richard Symmons of New Boston Huron in the final, en route to the title.

CHURCHILL'S OTHER individual winner was Brian Clements at 155.

Meanwhile, teammate Mike Krause was second behind Plymouth Canton's Tim Birely at 125.

Canton, fifth in the team standings, got a second place finish from heavyweight Tony Caloway, who was placed in 1:45 by Dearborn Divine Child's Darryl Zammit, a 6-foot-4, 240-pound All-State football player.

It was the first title for a Garden City school since 1978 when East High won it under the coaching of Dean Shipman, who served this year as meet director.

"We had been challenging in the top three during the past few years," said Shipman, who coached the Cougars last year before moving over as the school's assistant principal. "The kids really did a nice job."

All-Area gym team returns intact

"I really don't know what's out there because I've only been here a year, but my kids are stronger this year," Perkins said. "They have more finesse and maturity. Their sense of concentration, as well as their power, seems to be better this year."

The 13-girl squad has three freshmen, four sophomores, four juniors, two seniors and a pair of Solomons.

All-Area junior Tracy Solomon and her sophomore sister Jody are key components for the Hawks. Those two, along with sophomore Tana Burningham, will be counted upon to shoulder much of the scoring load.

"Tracy qualified to compete in floor exercise at the state meet last year and I think Tana and Jody, as well as Tracy, have a good chance this year," Perkins said.

The Hawks will also get help from seniors Jamie Lyons (beam) and Julie Runk (floor). "They have the maturity you need on those events. They've got the touch," said Perkins.

Harrison's next meet is at Wallied Lake Central, Jan. 6.

PLYMOUTH CANTON

The Chiefs will jump right into the trying pan in terms of league competition as they open their season Wednesday, Jan. 8, against North Farmington.

But, coach John Cunningham prefers to play the best as often as possible.

"I meet with the top schools because I know the people," he said. "Last year we started off 0-7, however, we never got killed except by Freeland. This year we will definitely be better. I don't lose anybody and they have all improved. I've got a bunch of good girls."

The squad consists of five freshmen, eight sophomores, four juniors and five seniors.

"My strongest group is my sophomores," he said.

Contrary to his teams of the past, which had two or three star performers, Cunningham said this year's group is very even in level of capability.

"The girls have experience from either recreation programs or from clubs, but they have had very little competition experience. In the past I had a group that would place 1-2-3-6-7-8 on an event. Now I have 4-4-4," he said.

Cunningham said he has a large group of specialists and will carefully choose his competitors for each event.

Looking ahead at the season, Cunningham predicts his toughest competition will come from Ann Arbor Pioneer, Salem, North and Freeland. He hopes his team can place in the top four, and again qualify for the regional.

The top gymnasts for the Chiefs are likely to be junior Megan McGow, sophomore Mary Jo Charron and sophomore Darcy Gignac.

"I don't see us qualifying for state as a team, but we do have a peripheral chance," Cunningham said.

FARMINGTON

Farmington coach Mary Beth Schornhorst has a young team this season: two seniors, three juniors, two sophomores and seven freshmen.

"I lost two seniors and a sophomore from last year," she said.

Gone from last year's team are its two top scorers, Katie Macintosh, who graduated, and Stacy Swanderski, who did not come out this season.

Farmington had its Dec. 16 meet with Northville cancelled and will open the season at home Thursday, Jan. 9, against Wallied Lake Western.

"We really want to win that meet, and we will be ready," Schornhorst said. "They beat us last year by a couple points. We had a very bad meet."

Schornhorst expects her team to finish in the middle of the pack at the Western Lakes meet.

The Western Lakes Conference meet will take place March 1 again at North Farmington. Regional and state meets will take place the following two weekends.
