

New show is a new avenue of expression

Lark Samouelian is executive director of Southwestern Oakland Cable Connection.

By Lark Samouelian
special writer

Welcome, "Speak Out." This is a new television show which offers another avenue for expression. It is similar to writing letters to the editor.

The Farmington Kiwanis Club was the originator of the idea. MetroVision's staff is very excited and are enjoying preproduction planning.

Residents interested in sharing their opinions on local, national and international issues may schedule time in the studio for taping on Tuesday evening, March 25, 555-7303.

The studio is located in the MetroVision Administration Building, 37635 Enterprise Court in Farmington Hills. This is west of Halsted, one block south of 12 Mile.

Fred Shaheen has created a set reminiscent of an English soapbox in the park. (Fred will be appearing on our "Live From the Director's Chair" March 26 at 7:30 p.m. to teach us how to design sets.) We are very fortunate to have such a receptive and creative staff.

Thank you to the Kiwanis Club for inspiring this new avenue of expression.

Metrovision of Oakland County's public-access programming on for the week of March 10.
