Questers celebrate birthday

Three local Quester chapters celebrated their 25th birthday at a tea at the Bloomfield Township Library Wednesday.

This national organization is devoted to the restoration of homes and buildings of historical value and the study of antiques as a means of preserving the cultural heritage. Those chapters having a birthday are the John Hunter, Heirloom and Panchartrain groups.

Joining them for the program which started at 12:30 p.m. were members of the Mary Chase Stratton, Martha Baldwin, Ellen Scripps Booth, Apple Island and Elijah Willets chapters.

There are approximately 25 members in each chapter and some of the buildings which they help maintain locally are the Hunter House and Allen House of Birmingham and the Moross House of Detroit.

Special guests attending the birthday party were Rita Brennan, national Quester vice president and Alice Wyland, Michigan Quester president.

The program, given by Andriana Gilmartin of the Apple Island Chapter, was on "Tea, Top Pots and Tea Customs."

The Heirloom Chapter provided the exhibit of antique tea doll dishes for the Friends Room of the West Bloomfield Library which continues on display. Other Quester chapters provide exhibits for the room during the year.
